ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

"Where shall I begin, please Your Majesty?"
asked the white Rabbit, putting on his spectacles.
"Begin at the beginning,"
said the king gravely,
"and go on till you come to the end; then stop."

(Lewis Carrol, Alice in Wonderland)

That is what Professor P.K. Misra, my supervisor, did. It was he who very ably guided me in the formulation of the problem of this study, and supervised it till the time he had to leave for Trinidad in September, 1990. I am grateful to him.

I can never be grateful enough to Professor A.P. Sinha, the founder and present Head of the Department, for his personal interest in this work, and for readily putting at my disposal his vast experience and expertise in the final stages of writing it.

I owe many thanks to the many couples in Shillong, Jowai, Tura, Williamnagar, Guwahati, Kohima, Dimapur, and other places, whose responses in the questionnaire and interviews make up the very substance of this work, their cooperation made this dissertation a reality.

I am deeply grateful to the staff, teaching and non-teaching (1988-89), of Sacred Heart Boys' High School, Mawlai, without whose unstinted cooperation, I should never have been able to prosecute my M.Phil studies.

I owe my thanks also to Rev. Fr. Leo Heriot, SDB, my Rector at Sacred Heart College, Mawlai, for his unfailing encouragement.

A million thanks to my Provincial Superiors (Guwahati) for their magnanimity and support through these past years.

My special thanks to Bro. Januarius Sangma, SDB, of Bosco Mount, Tura, who went out of his way to help type the first drafts of the dissertation.

'Thank You' to Kong Pristilla Lyngdoh who very kindly went out of her way to supply me with her many seminar papers.

I am very grateful to Mr. Godfrey Pathaw who accepted the task of typing the dissertation and to my friend Martin Kampakkaran who helped me by going through the drafts.

Very many thanks to my colleagues at Bosco Mount (1989-90), without whose understanding I would not have been able to come this far. Similarly, I am grateful to my friends, the Fathers at Christ the King College, Shillong (1988-90), for their hospitality and constant readiness to help.

Thanks also to Bro. N. Valeri, SDB, and Bro. J. Colombi, SDB, of Don Bosco Technical School, Shillong, for kindly accepting to print the title page and to bind this dissertation even at the eleventh hour.

Finally, to all those who deserve my thanks in whatever measure, whether or not mentioned here, to all of them I say: THANK YOU!
