ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Praise and thanks be to God, the Lord of the Worlds Whom I owe all my education and knowledge and all that this work contains.

Thanks and gratitude are to the Muslim community in Britain in general and all my respondents in particular on whose thoughts and behaviour the research has been performed. Thanks also to the Government of U.K. which offered me the visa for the year 1982-83 to undertake the field investigation in Britain. My thanks are also due to the concerned authorities of the British Museum, University of London Library, Leicester University Library and Selly Oak Colleges Birmingham who granted me the facilities of the libraries.

I am grateful to my Supervisor Professor M. Iqbal Ansari who guided and supervised my work. He took keen interest and patiently went through the work and gave his suggestions occasionally. I am extremely thankful to Professor Anjed Ali, Chairman, Department of Islamic Studies who not only extended his full co-operation but also encouraged me. I am very much thankful to Professor Nejatullah Siddiqi who helped me in selecting the topic of my research and encouraged me that I would do my best towards the topic.
I whole heartedly acknowledge the scholarly advices of brother Khurram Murad, Director General, the Islamic Foundation, Leicester, U.K., the great concern of Dr. Muhammad Manazir Ahsan the Assistant Director General of the Islamic Foundation, the love and devotion of brother Hasson Ally, a Senior Research Fellow at the Foundation and the encouragement and inspiration of all the brothers at the Foundation.

I would ever remain grateful to Dr. Fazlur Rehman Faridi who infused in me a sense of confidence and inspired me.

I am greatly indebted to Dr. A.R. Khidwai who offered me a great help and gave some practical suggestions.

My thanks are also due to my eldest sister-in-law who offered all her sisterly help at her residence during my work. I also can not overlook the whole hearted co-operation of my wife Zeenath Kausar, Research Scholar, Department of Political Science, all along the work. It is rather her own inspiration which lies behind the work.

I remain grateful to the concern authorities of the World Assembly of Muslim Youth, Riyadh and the Islamic Foundation, Leicester, U.K., for financing the research.

May God give all of them the best in this world and the best in the hereafter, Amin.
