Acknowledgement

First of all, I would like to thank GOD for his countless blessings for making my dream to turn into reality. Without his blessing this work wouldn’t have been possible.

A special and profound thanks to Prof. Noor Mohammad, Chairman, Deptt. of Sociology & Social Work, AMU, for his kind guidance and necessary inputs throughout my stay in the department and specially during the research period.

Thesis writing requires the able and competent guidance and supervision apart from the student’s own efforts. I feel lucky and fortunate enough in having the blessings and guidance of Honourable learned Dr. Nemat Ali Khan, Reader, Department of Sociology & Social Work, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh. His learned and experience guidance prevented me to go astray and enhance my exercise of my intellectual fairness and freedom. His deep intellectual insight, academic outlook, empirical approach, criticism and thought provoking discussions on the subject have proved very beneficial for me in the completion of this task. This work is the result of his able supervision, invaluable advice and systematic and sincere guidance, without it this would not have been in its present form. I have a paucity of words to extend my heartly gratitude to the learned Reader.

I am also very grateful to Dr. Abdul Waheed and all the teachers of the Department of Sociology & Social Work who not only inspired and encouraged me but gave me the valuable guidance during my studies and at various other occasions.
I am extremely thankful to Prof. Nandu Ram, Chairman, Ambedkar Chair, JNU, who helped me to unfold my energies, discussing with me the minutest detail of the topic and clearing me of the various doubts in the process.

A special note of thanks to my husband Dr. Abhinav Pathak who has always been helpful to me throughout my research work. He has been a source of constant encouragement and support to me.

I am also thankful to my in-laws, my parents, my sisters, my brother-in-laws and my friends Amita, Fareed, Humaira, Intiyaz, Kapil, Kulsoom & Neha. My juniors Ajaz, Asifa, and Sohail for having faith in me and proved to be a big emotional support throughout my work. I must acknowledge the special presence of Primrose as a friend for always been around as a source of hope and faith. I must say without his support, for me to carry out this work would have been impossible.

I would like to heartily thank to the staff members Mr. Ibne Hasan, Incharge, Seminar Library of Department of Sociology, Centre for Women Studies, Ambedkar Chair, AMU, Statistics Deptt and Nagar Nigam Of Aligarh and the Library of Jawahar Lal Nehru University, Delhi.

I owe a debt of gratitude to the staff members of the Department of Sociology for their kind cooperation and generous help.

With great pleasure I acknowledge my indebtedness to the members of the family for their affectionate encouragement and congenial atmosphere.

Charul Sharma