At the outset, I would like to thank "The Almighty" for being so kind to me all throughout my life. If not for his constant blessings and grace I wouldn't have been able to accomplish this task of pursuing Ph D, especially when I am already in the evening of my life.

The first person in my life I am very thankful to is my father Late Shri A. N. Rao, whose earnest desire was to see me scaling new heights in the educational field as well, after establishing credentials in the steel industry. He was happy when he came to know of my intentions of pursuing Ph D; he became the encouraging force behind me to undertake this arduous step, at the fag end of life, it being a total switch-over of field of activity from the one that has been mine for over three decades, namely, working in steel industry. So have been my mother and my wife who have burnt innumerable number of candles along with me while working on this dissertation. Of-course, I am a little sad that my father is not alive to see my accomplishments, but I strongly believe that his invisible but assuring hand is always on top of my head.

While there have been countless number people who have sincerely helped me all along and it is difficult for me to jot down all those names and I am highly indebted to all of them. However, I definitely need to mention the names of following people especially for their excellent support, advice and encouragement during the entire exercise. They are:

Dr Salma Ahmed, Reader, Department of Business Administration, Faculty of Management Research & Studies, AMU, Aligarh, who is my internal guide for the thesis and took immense interest and pains to see that I succeed.

Dr P. B. Deshmukh, Presently Director, Roongta College of Engineering & Technology, Bhilai, and also Dean, Chattisgarh Swami Vivekananda Technical University, Bhilai. (In his Former assignment he was Professor & H.O.D. Dept. of Management Sciences, BIT, Durg, Chhattisgarh). He has been my external guide and took not only great interest, but provided all necessary help as required.

Shri S K Jain, Former Executive Director of Bhilai Steel Plant, Bhilai. He was kind enough to arrange free access to people of BSP, its documents, data and extend all the help that was needed for the exercise.

Shri K. Patel, former General Manager I/c, BTI, BSP, Bhilai for having agreed to become local guide from BSP side and extending access and support to the data, documents, books, library and plant units till his retirement.

Shri Girish Kumar, AGM, TQM dept. BSP Bhilai, who happened to be expert in KM field from BSP and took a lot of initiative in the project and was really magnanimous by extending unstinted support during the entire phase of study.

Dr Sumeet Gupta, Reader, Shri Shankaracharya Institute of Management & Technology, who gave me immense support by enlightening me with the use of SPSS statistical package for drawing out final results and conclusions.

Shri Ravindra Kumar, Director, Shriram Institute of Management & Technology, Kashipur, Uttarakhand, who was my colleague for three decades in steel industry and the driving force to coax me to undertake these higher studies.

There have been many friends and well wishers like Mr KC Bhagatkar, former DGM, MMD, BSP, Mr. SK Rastogi, DGM, Projects Directorate, SAIL, New Delhi who have been supportive and offered help in all forms as and when needed.

Few people of BSP, whose names I can not but mention here for their invaluable services are Mr Manas Shukla, AGM, BTI, Mr Namdev Barange, Training Coordinator, BTI, Mr. R Rajasekhar & Mr Ram Lal of BTI, Bhilai, Mr. B Sudhakar of Personnel Dept., Mr. G Rajeswar Rao of C & IT dept., Mrs Radhika Srinivasan, AGM, CMMS department and Mr. Ajay Kumar, AGM, CMMS department. These people were by my side all along in collection of data, organising the matter and bringing it to the shape in which it is at the moment. So also, Mr Nitin Jain, who was a chance acquaintance and a student of Nagpur Institute of Management & Technology, took immense interest in the subject and helped me in understanding the basics of usage of SPSS package.

Finally, in fact, this should have been mentioned at the beginning, I have to express my gratitude to AIMA and its entire faculty and other members, who have created an opening for all people like me who have strong urge to pursue higher studies with a determination to acquire doctorate degree in business administration field, by introducing DBA course jointly with AMU,
And to the owners of Niros Ispat (P) Limited, especially Mr Sunil Agrawal, who have not only given me job but complete freedom to devote large part of my time to undertake and pursue these studies.
I am constrained to put a stop here, although I wish I could take names of all those responsible in bringing this dissertation to a presentable shape.

May The Almighty bless all those responsible directly or indirectly in helping me out for successful completion of this dissertation!

(A. Venkata Rao)
