Acknowledgements

I acknowledge my deep gratitude to Dr. Farhat Hasan, my supervisor, for his constant guidance and support. He helped me throughout to overcome the difficulties I experienced during the course of study and always inspired me to work with dedication and in a disciplined manner.

I am highly obliged to Prof. Irfan Habib, for his valuable guidance and motivation. It is he who originally suggested me to work on the Mughal Court’s perception of Europe. I also express my deep gratitude and sincere thanks to Prof. Shireen Moosvi for her unflinching support and affection.

Among my teachers in Aligarh, I am profoundly grateful to Prof. I.A. Khan, Dr. Ishrat Alam, Dr. S. Ali Nadeem Rezavi, Prof. S.P. Verma, as also to Faiz Habib for their scholarly assistance. My especial thanks are due to Dr. Gulfishan Khan for her encouragement and interest in my research work.

I am thankful to the staff of Research Library of the Centre of Advanced Study in History, Aligarh, especially Mr. Arshad Ali. Salman Ahmad, and Mazhar Husain. Moin Akhtar. Bansidhar Sharma. Arshad Chauhan, Nisar and Zubair were also very helpful. I am also thankful to the staff of Maulana Azad Library, Aligarh. Indian Council of Historical Research, and National Archives of India, Delhi.

I am indeed very grateful to my friends for their cooperation and emotional support throughout the period of research. Amongst them my thanks are due to Shweta Sharma, Anu Goel. Geetika Bajpai. Seema Raghav, Razia Khan, Sadia Shafqat, Shireen Naaz. Ashma, and most of all to Saleem Ahmad. I must also thank my colleagues in Delhi University who extended every possible help to me, especially Kr. Sanjay Singh, Dr. Vedpal Rana, Manish Sharma, Ranjan and Anubhuti Maurya.

In the end I would also like to thank my family. My father and my husband, Vishal, were very supportive. I am beholden to my mother for the many ways in which she helped me, especially with my daughter, Aniesha and my niece Aparna. My thanks are also due to my brother Amal Govil and sister-in-law, Kavita Govil for their constant support and encouragement.

I must confess that all the errors and shortcomings that are there in the thesis are mine, for which I take full responsibility.

Aditi Govil