I acknowledge my deepest sense of gratitude to my Supervisor, Dr. S.K. Mishra, Reader, Dept. of Economics, NEHU, Shillong, for his able guidance, inspiring encouragement, valuable counsel and constant help in preparation of this dissertation. I do confess that without his guidance I could hardly have been able to complete this work.

I express my sincere gratitude to Shri S.C. Desarkar, Principal, Women's College, Tinsukia, without whose cooperation and recommendation for grant of UGC Fellowship under FIP Scheme my work would not have been completed. All my colleagues of Women's College, Tinsukia, shared the teaching load in my absence from the College and deserve heartfelt thanks for their help and cooperation.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to all my teachers of the Department of Economics, NEHU, for their encouragement and help extended to me while doing this research. To name, I am especially indebted to Prof. Sriprakash who suggested me the topic and the Supervisor; Prof. T. Mathew, who helped me in a number of ways; Prof. K. Bez, Prof. N. Srivastav, Prof. T. Lawma and Prof. E.D. Thomas who gave me all encouragement and constructive suggestions.

My hearty thanks are due to S. Sutradhar, Librarian, Women's College, Tinsukia; D.K. Majumdar, Divisional Public Health Officer (Technical Branch), Sibsagar Division, D. Majumdar, Lecturer in the Department of Applied Geology, Dibrugarh University, R. Das, Lecturer, Tinsukia College, D. K. Gope, Accountant Assistant, Women's College, Tinsukia, Mr. A.B. Chakravorty, Research Scholar, Dept. of Statistics,
Dibrugarh University, who provided me with necessary information and assistance most cooperatively. I am also thankful to Dr. S. Kakoty, Head, Dept. of Statistics, Dibrugarh University for allowing me to use the computer.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Joseph F. Khongbuh for taking keen interest in cutting the stencils and cyclostyling.

My friends Mr. P.N. How Bora, Mrs. B. Howbora, Mr. M.K. Mitra, Mr. L. Talukdar, Mr. A. Medhi, Mr. B. Mishra, Mrs. B. Sharma, Mr. A. Datta, Miss S. Choudhury, Mr. Godfrey, Mr. Dulal Roy and many others who extended help and encouragement to me must be acknowledged my heartfelt thanks.

And I acknowledge my deepest sense of gratitude to my beloved parents and brothers for inspiration.

Lastly, I beg an apology due to my limitations which may be revealed in the Study.

SHILLONG
THE 22nd APRIL 1987

DIGANTA KUMAR MAJUMDAR

(DIGANTA KUMAR MAJUMDAR)