“Criminals do not die by the hands of the law. They die by the hands of other men.”

— George Bernard Shaw, Man and Superman

“In the little world in which children have their existence, whosoever brings them up, there is nothing so finely perceived and so finely felt as injustice.”

— Charles Dickens, Great Expectations

“Where did we ever get the crazy idea that in order to make children do better, first we have to make them feel worse? Think of the last time you felt humiliated or treated unfairly. Did you feel like cooperating or doing better?”

— Jane Nelsen
