

Carlin, A., Indian Transportation - A Sectoral Approach to Development Constraints, July 1967.

Gurdon, P.R.T., The Khasis, 1914.

Herbert, D., Report on the Khasi and Jaintia Hills, Shillong, 1903.

Liem, T.C., M.G.Dagenais and M.J.I.Gaudry, A Program for Box Cox Transformation in Regression Models with Heteroskedastic and Auto Regressive Residuals, University of Montreal, 1983.

North Eastern Council, Sixth Five Year Plan, 1980-85, Shillong.

Ramanadhan, V.V., Economics of Rail-Road Policy, M.S.R.Murthy and Co., Visakhapatnam, 1957.

Rangam, R.K., "Efficiency will be a New Watchward in the Years to Come", Times of India, Vol.112, Delhi, 1987.

Ricter, W.B.K., A framework for balanced Transportation Planning in Metropolitan Regions, University of California, Berkeley, California, 1969.

Rumar, Kare, Studies in Traffic Murkgaard, Copenhagen, 1966.

School of Planning and Architecture, "A Study on Planning of Inter State Passenger Terminal Locations in Delhi Urban Area", Department of Traffic and Transportation Planning, New Delhi, 1974-75.

Sen, N.C., The Origin and Early History of the Khasis, Synteng People.

Srinivasan, N.S., "Road Accidents in India", Civic Affairs, Jan. 1985, 32-6, Kanpur, 1985.

Sullivan, An Analysis of Demand for and Supply of Rural Public Transportation: The Case of Alberta, Stanford University, California, 1974.

Transport Research Division, (with regards to accidents), New Delhi, 1980.

Reports

