ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research could be completed due to the sincere support and co-operation of many individuals and institutions. It is not possible to list them all here but I will try my best.

First of all, I would like to extend my most sincere gratitude to Prof. Dr. Vibhuti Patel. I feel very lucky to be acquainted with such an eminent gender economist and committed academician and to have her as my guide in my research. It is because of her constant support that I could accomplish this monumental task.

I will take this opportunity to thank all those who are associated with the Self-Help groups in Tapi, South Gujarat. My heartfelt gratitude also goes to the SHG women who cooperated with me in every stage of the research in spite of their many household and livelihood-related responsibilities. I owe many thanks to Smt. Tarla Shah (Chairman, VedchiPradeshSevaSamiti-Valod), Mr. D.K. Patel (Officer, BAIF), Ms. Rekha Chaudhari (Co-ordinator, BHASHA), Ms. Gopiben Gamit (Founder Member, Uthan), Ms. Varsha Halpati (Co-ordinator, Sakhi Mandal) for providing inputs for the sample survey. Thanks to Ms. Rekha Chaudhari for her time and her help in data collection. I would also like to thank the officers of the Taluka and District Panchayats and the Tribal Area Sub Plan Officer, Songadh for providing valuable information and important documents.

I would also like to express my gratitude to the university authority, the faculty and librarians Dr. Parul Zaveri, and Dr. Perin Marolia of S N D T University, Churchgate. I thank librarians Ms. Chaya Pednekar, Ms. Mukta Atkekar, Ms. Sonali Divekar, Ms. Neelam Varadkar and Ms Vandana More who were instrumental in providing sources and material for the research. I sincerely thank the Director and the library staff of Centre for Social Studies, Surat for their help in sourcing documents and other material.

I also owe my gratitude to Dr. Veena Devasthali, Professor of Economics, SNDT University for her valuable inputs and guidance. I am extremely grateful to Dr. Ruby Ojha for making me computer-friendly and helping me at every stage of the research, especially data cleaning and data processing.
I wish to thank Dr. Bharati Walavalkar & all my friends from the bottom of my heart for their moral support. Mr. Sharma, Mr. Vikas Parab who have provided constant and valuable assistance in putting the data together in SPSS, Excel and Mr. Shrikant Parab for assisting me in compilation, organizing and presentation of data.

This research is dedicated to my mother without whose constant support it could not have been completed. I want to thank my husband, my son, my daughter in law, my niece Tanvi Mohile and my entire family for the silent, but encouraging, support they have provided throughout the course of the research.
