ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Thanking all those who helped me is going to be a tough job because the list is indeed long. If I have left certain people out, attribute it to the incongruencies of human memory.

Prof. A. H. Musavi, who guided me through this dissertation and was always a constant source of encouragement.

Mr. H. S. Panwar, Director, Wildlife Institute of India, Dehra Dun for giving me the opportunity to work in the Institute's project.

Mr. B. C. Choudhary, Dr. Y. V. Jhala, Mr. Qamar Qureshi and Dr. R. S. Chundawat of Wildlife Institute of India for helping me whenever required.

Dr. Asad R. Rahmani, Dr. Jamal A. Khan, Mr. Afif Khan and Mr. Salim Javed of Centre for Wildlife & Ornithology, A.M.U. Aligarh for their support at A.M.U.

Dr. Ajith Kumar of SACON for advice and discussions.

Madhya Pradesh Forest Department for extending support during the field work.

Raghu Ram Tata, A. M. Dixit and Parthapriya Ghosh, my field colleagues, shared many a fantastic experience in the field.

Abdul, Babulal and Santosh, our field assistants for assistance and company in the field.

Mr. Rajesh Thapa and other staff of computer cell at WII.

Malavika Chauhan for help in taking the final draft.

My wife, Neelam for proof reading of the manuscript.

My parents, without their support, I would not have studied wildlife ecology at all.

Every one at the Wildlife Institute of India with whom I spent 5 years.