Preliminary Introduction:

The thesis is divided into two parts, Part I and Part II. The first part consists of the introduction to the thesis and the eight papers forming the thesis. The second part consists of minor and unpublished results and certain notes on the papers of part I.

The paginations of part I and part II are separate. The introduction has been paginated in Roman characters.