ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I praise and thank the Almighty God, the Most Gracious, and the Most Merciful for showering His blessings on this attempt of mine.

No word can adequately express the sense of gratitude and indebtedness I owe to Dr. S. Ravindranathan, Dean, Faculty of Indian and other languages, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli, my teacher and guide. In writing this thesis, his vast scholarship and guidance were offered without restraint and gratefully accepted at every stage. His kind interest and profuse encouragement were a source of inspiration and but for him I could not have completed this work.

I extend my heartfelt thanks to Professor Parasuram Ramamoorthi, Head, Department of Theatre Arts, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai for the guidance in the formation of this thesis.

I acknowledge with gratitude the constant encouragement and pertinent suggestions received from Dr. Mark Joseph, Head, Department of English, St. John’s College, Palayamkottai and Dr. V.S. Joseph Albert, Reader, Department of English, St. Xavier's College, Palayamkottai.
I am indebted to Dr. S.I. Rasheed Basha and Dr. Y. Sayed Mohamed, my colleagues in the Department of English, Sadakathullah Appa College, Rahmath Nagar for their constant help and enquiries regarding the progress of the work.

My thanks are due in no small measure to Mr. S.M.A. Syed Mohamed Khaja, A.M. Anvar, I. Shahul Hameed Badhusha and J. Khaja Mohideen of Jasmine Computers, Melapalayam for the fine and excellent work of Word Processing this thesis in a short time on Intel Pentium III.

It would be unfair if I do not mention my wife Mrs. Reshyda Sheryff, whose loving care has been a great support to me in this endeavour. My son-in-law Mr. G.M. Abdul Khader, my daughter Nyla Sheryn and my son Nabeel Ferzan, gave me all they could to see this work completed successfully and my thanks are due to them.

And finally, I remember my mother Mrs. Aysha Mohamed Khan, who taught me what is patience.
