ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I place on record my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Professor Ishrat H. Farooqi, Chairman Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, under whose able guidance this work has been completed. Initially, I was registered as a research scholar under Dr. Nafees Baig. But as he went abroad in connection with his teaching assignment, Dr. S. Azmat Ali, the Reader, Department of Commerce, was made my supervisor who guided me in my research work right from 1982 to 1985. On the retirement of Dr. Ali in April, 1985, I was finally assigned to my learned teacher Prof. Ishrat H. Farooqi. Thus after having received various kicks and jumps due to change of my previous supervisors, the ball is now very much in the court of my present supervisor. Needless to mention that the help and encouragement which I received from him has inspired me to finalise this research work successfully. In spite of numerous pre-occupations in the administrative and academic fields Prof. Farooqi gave me the liberty to encroach on his precious time. This work would not have been completed without his guidance, and help. I, therefore, feel privilege in acknowledging my profound gratitude to Prof. Farooqi.
With equally warm regards, also owe a debt of gratitude to my respected teacher, Professor Habibur Rahman, Dean Faculty of Commerce, whose personal interest and patronage have been a source of constant inspiration to me in the completion of this thesis. His thought provoking views and comments have been incorporated in the research work.

I personally owe my debt of gratitude to my teacher Dr. Syed Azmat Ali, Ex-Reader, Department of Commerce, Aligarh Muslim University, who guided me through and through in my research work and gave me valuable suggestions for the improvement of my thesis. I was highly educated and enlightened by his comments which have also been included somewhere in the thesis. Dr. Ali also took pains in going through the first draft of the thesis.

I am also equally grateful to Dr. Nafees Baig under whose guidance I did a good deal of spadework in the initial stages of my research work. It was he who inspired me to work upon the role of India Tourism Development Corporation in the promotion of tourism in India.

It would be a sheer injustice on part if I do not express my thanks to the following personnel of Ministry of Tourism, Government of India and India Tourism Development Corporation (ITDC), who have extended all possible help and assistance in the collection of necessary matter for this thesis: Mr. P. Shankaran, Information Assistant, Ministry of Tourism and Civil Aviation, New Delhi.
Miss. Anees Jung : I.T.D.C. Divisional Manager, Publicity Department, New Delhi., Mr. K.D. Kale; Company Secretary I.T.D.C., New Delhi, Mr. Om Prakash Gupta; Secretarial Officer, I.T.D.C., New Delhi., Mr. Athar Ullah Khan, Import Executive, Cox and King India Ltd., New Delhi.

I am also grateful to other members of the teaching staff and my fellow research scholars of the Faculty of Commerce, who have also been a source of timely help and guidance to me. Thanks are also due to Mr. Shahzad Ali, Office Superintendent, Department of Commerce and Mr. Rashid Ali, Senior Incharge who have helped me all along during my research studies.

Last but not the least, I am also indebted to Mr. S. Viqar Husain Jafri, Bill Section, C.A.O., A.M.U., Aligarh who has very kindly typed this thesis neatly, accurately and beautifully.
