In the preparation of this Thesis, entitled "Analytical Study of State Assistance in Agricultural Sector of Egypt, 1959/60-79", I am deeply indebted to my supervisor Dr. Aulad Ahmad Siddiqui, Professor and Chairman of Department of Economics, AMU, Aligarh, upon whom fell most of the burden of careful reading of the drafts, correcting, refining and guiding the work all which he bore cheerfully despite his heavy responsibilities at Aligarh and outside. Without his guidance, help and encouragement and inspiring attitude, this work could not have been completed. Because of the fact that he gave me liberty of encroaching upon his valuable time frequently, I have great pleasure in acknowledging my profound gratitude to him for the completion of this work. However, the errors of judgement, if any, are entirely mine.

With equally sincere feeling, I record my deep sense of gratitude to my reverend teachers, Prof. Mohamad Shabbir Khan, Department of Economics, AMU, Aligarh, and his wife Prof. Dr. Kishwar Shabbir Khan,
Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences, AMU, Aligarh, whose constructive suggestions, help and affectionate patronage have been a source of constant inspiration to me.

I also owe a debt of gratitude to my two children Sherin and Hamed and to my wife Dr. Zeinab Mohamed, Assistant Prof. of Organic Chemistry, Faculty of Education, Ain Shams University, Egypt, who has not only helped in preparing notes but also kept my morale high during the most strenuous hours of this work. She was a source of encouragement and lent her support at all stages of this work.

My list of benefactors is incomplete and I take this opportunity to a blanket vote of thanks to both the Indian and the Egyptian Governments, and the Egyptian Embassy in New Delhi for financial assistance during my study period, and others who helped me but whose names have not come up.
