ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis was completed under the supervision of Professor M.A. Raz. I owe him a great deal for his keen interest, invaluable suggestions and able guidance in my work.

Discussions with Professor Lawrence Klein during his visit to India in 1983 proved of immense help in formulating the model for this study. I am indebted to him. I am also grateful to Professors R.K. Bhatia, B.B. Bhattacharya, D.B. Gupta, K. Krishnamurty, D.U. Sastry and K. Subbarao, and Drs. Raghav Gaiha, B.N. Goldar, Ashok Gulati, Satya Paul, G.R. Saini and P.D. Sharma for their valuable comments and suggestions at various stages of the present work.

My indebtedness to late Professor Raj Krishna needs a special mention. He provided me the much needed guidance during the absence of my supervisor from the country.

I am specially grateful to Professor K. Krishnamurty, Director, Institute of Economic Growth and Professor P.C. Joshi, the former Director of the Institute, who encouraged and provided me the necessary facilities to undertake this study. I am also grateful to Professor (Mrs) Swapna Mukhopadhyay, Course Director, Indian Economic Service Training Section and Professor R.K. Bhatia, former Course Director of the Section who allowed me sufficient time for completing the present work.
Professor C.H. Hanumantha Rao's repeated questioning about the status of my Ph.D. dissertation helped me a lot in keeping up the momentum of my work. I am grateful to him for his concern and encouragement.

I am thankful to Professor K.D. Sharma, Director, Delhi University Computer Centre for his courtesy and consideration without which this thesis would not have been completed in time. My thanks are also due to Professor N.C. Khandekar, former Director and the staff of the Centre particularly Messers OSS, LD, TNCN, CPS, RK, R and KBN.

I would like to thank my friends, Drs. D.N. Dwivedi, Moneer Alam, Sharif Mohammad, R.K. Sharma, S.C. Gulati, Mr. Anil Aggarwal, Mr. M.M. Khan and my niece 'Meenu' for their help at various stages of the present work.

It would be great injustice if I do not thank my friends Archana and Mr. M.A. Gandhi who helped me at crucial moments of this work. But for their help, this thesis would not have been completed.

My thanks are also due to Mr. Y.V. Chandan, who arranged for the typing assistance and to M/s B. Ramamurty, H.L. Mehta, R.S. Aneja, Manmohan Singh and P.C. Wadhwa who patiently typed the manuscript in such a short time.
Finally, I am grateful to my wife Shanno who had to bear many inconveniences due to my preoccupation with this thesis. She encouraged me during the moments of frustration and distress like 'Shanno' and not like Shahnaz.
