

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. S.M. Zainuddin, Department of Geology, Aligarh Muslim University for his guidance and supervision during the course of this research work. It is his encouragement and keen interest in the subject which led to the completion of this study in time.

The perseverance required to see this work through to completion stem from the interest that I developed as a student who had the good fortune of being taught and advised by Prof. V.K. Srivastav, Prof. S.M. Casshyap, Prof. Iqbaluddin, Prof. S.M. Zainuddin, Prof. N. Ghani and Prof. K. Akhtar of A.M.U. and Prof. K.K. Sharma of Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology (WIHG), Dehra Dun.

I wish to thank the Chairman, Department of Geology, Aligarh Muslim University for providing facilities during the period of this work.

I thank Mr. J. Singh, Block Development Officer, Jakhaura Block and his staff Messrs S.P. Singh and S.C. Jain who extended logistic facilities during field survey. Help and co-operation by Mr. D.P. Agnihotri, Officer -in-Charge, Jakhaura Police Station and his staff Messrs Z. Hasan and A. Pervez are thankfully acknowledged. The personal care of Mr. B. Singh, S.I., Narhat Police Station and Mr. P.K. Gupta, Forester, Gona-Lalitpur Range made the stay in the field comfortable. My sincere thanks are due to Dr. S. Farooqui, Geologist, DGM, Lucknow for logistic support and valuable discussion during the field survey. Thanks are extended to Dr. A.K. Bagchi and Dr. A.V.

Subramaniam, A.M.D., New Delhi for discussion during field survey. A special debt of gratitude is owed Prof. K.K. Sharma, WIHG, Dehra Dun for his help and co-operation during field observations, and for fruitful discussion and suggestion.

I am thankful to Prof. Iqbaluddin, Director, Remote Sensing Applications Centre for Resource Evaluation and Geo-Engineering, Aligarh Muslim University for discussion and providing me petrographic facilities. The Director, Computer Centre, A.M.U. kindly permitted me to avail the computer facilities. The Director, Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology, Dehra Dun and the Chairman, Department of Geology, University of Delhi were kind enough to allow me to consult reference volumes in their respective libraries. Prof. P.K. Verma, Co-Ordinator of DST sponsored SERC V year cycle of Summer School on Databases Numerical Methods and Computer Applications in Modern Approach to Petrology kindly selected me to undergo training programme in the Summer Schools. I have learned much from these training programmes.

Fruitful discussions with Dr. M. Raza, help and co-operation in computer work by Dr. S. Farooq, Deptt. of Geology, A.M.U. are thankfully acknowledged. Deserving of special recognition are Dr. M. I. Bhat, Dr. T. Ahmad, Dr. A. Rahman of WIHG, Dehra Dun and Dr. A. Rais, G.S. I, Jaipur. My sincere thanks are due to Dr. S.H. Alvi, Mr. S.A. Rashid and Mr. M.M. Alam, Deptt. of Geology, A.M.U. for their patient reading of the manuscript and comments. Dr. M.S. Khan and Mr. Z.S.H. Abu-Hamattah, Deptt. of Geology, A.M.U., are thanked for criticism and discussions. Mr. M.A. Khan of Deptt. Geology, A.M.U. helped me in a number of ways in different phases of this work. I sincerely acknowledge his co-operation.

I thank Messrs Z. Hussain, A. Ali and S. Ahmad, Department of Geology, A.M.U. for library facilities, preparation of thin sections and painstaking cartographic works respectively. Mr. Raiz Khan and Mr. S. Waheed are thanked for typing the manuscript.

Especial thanks are due to my brothers Aka, Shaka, Naka and Khokan for their patient reading of the manuscript to point out typographical mistakes. I am indebted to my parents who in a number of ways provided the wherewithal, I dedicate this effort to them. Finally I would like to thank my family members for letting me take root at Aligarh for a couple of years.

This research work is funded by Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, Government of India (grant No. 9/112 (189)/91-EMR-I), I duly acknowledge the support.
