ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I acknowledge with a sense of gratitude the guidance and help I received from various sources in completing this study.

I am immensely indebted to Dr. M.B. Buch who inducted me to the area of classroom research and whose seasoned guidance and sustained encouragement had been a source of inspiration to me throughout. I also owe my thanks to Dr. S. K. Mitra, Dr. Uday Pareek, and Dr. Prayag Mehta for several helpful discussions on the problem at personal level. I am grateful to all the teachers and the students who extended their spontaneous cooperation throughout the study.

To Dr. Anita Simon and Dr. N.A. Flanders I am particularly indebted for providing me with the much needed material on classroom interaction. My thanks are also due to all colleagues in CASE in general, and Miss Sudesh Sharma in particular, who rendered valuable assistance.

Lastly, I owe my gratitude to my wife whose patience, forbearance, and assistance convenience the culmination of the present work.
