ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to Professor Tara Gopaldas, Head, Department of Foods and Nutrition and Dean, Faculty of Home Science, M.S. University of Baroda, for her valuable guidance, constant encouragement and support which made it possible for me to undertake and complete this study. I am also grateful to Dr S G Srikantia, Professor Emeritus, Post-graduate Department of Home Science, University of Mysore and former Director, National Institute of Nutrition, Hyderabad, for his valuable suggestions and encouragement during the course of this study. I am greatly indebted to Dr T S Saraswathy, Professor and Head, Department of Child Development, Faculty of Home Science, M.S. University of Baroda for the orientation to research methods in Social Sciences she provided, for the many stimulating discussions on this study and for her helpful suggestions regarding the preparation of the manuscript.

I acknowledge with thanks the financial assistance provided by the World Health Organization that made this study possible and a one year study leave granted to me by the M.S. University of Baroda to complete the writing of my dissertation.

I would not have been able to carry this study to completion but for the help and co-operation I have received from several individuals. I wish to express my sincere thanks, especially to the following people:

- Ms Farhat Saiyed and Ms Sandhya Shah for assistance in data collection in the initial phase of the study and for training the supervisors and AWWs as part of the WHO assisted project

- Ms Kavita Sharma and Ms Minaxi Bhatt for assistance in collection and compilation of the data in the final phase
- Mr N K Sant, Reader, Department of Applied Art, Faculty of Fine Arts, M.S. University of Baroda, for the art work of the lesson charts

- Dr K Vijayaraghavan, National Institute of Nutrition, Hyderabad and Professor Sunder Gujral, Department of Foods and Nutrition, Faculty of Home Science, M.S. University of Baroda, for validating the key to the scoring of the schedules

- Dr A A Contractor, Joint Secretary in charge of ICDS in Gujarat State for his kind co-operation and help in every possible way

- The entire staff of the ICDS in Baroda and Chhotadeypur whose enthusiasm and co-operation was primarily responsible for the successful completion of the study

- The subjects of my study who in spite of their harrying schedule co-operated very enthusiastically and

- Mr Rangwala for his competent and meticulous typing of the final draft of the thesis.

Finally, I want to express my very special thanks to my husband, Dr C K Seshadri who has been a constant source of inspiration and a pillar of strength throughout the period of this study. But for his sympathetic understanding and moral support I would not have been able to complete this study.
