ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

“Learning never ceases until the last breath”

“He who teaches never ceases to learn”

My instinct towards Medical Education was duly identified almost 25 years ago by Dr. H.B. Rajashekhar MD, FRCP (Edin) the then Principal of Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College, who nurtured it by giving ample opportunities for me to work in the Department of Medical Education (DOME) and also to participate in eleven international workshops on various themes of medical education conducted by many internationally reputed Teachers/Faculty from University of Illinois, Chicago USA. The seed sown by him then, got germinated and encouraged me subsequently, to go forward and to carry on this educational research. I take this opportunity of thanking him whole heartedly for having guided me in each and every step of the conduct of this study and also the preparation of this dissertation.

The implementation of what was in my mind could not have been possible if it were not encouraged and promoted timely by our beloved Hon Chancellor Dr. Prabhakar Kore D.Lit and Hon Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dr. Chandrakant Kokate ph.D, who motivated me to register for Ph.D program and carry out the work continuously throughout until completion.

The guidance given by Dr D. K. Shrinivas MD Sr. Educationist, Former Curriculum Development Officer, RGUHS, Bangalore and Former Dean, JIPMER, Pondicherry and Dr. (Mrs.) Lalithamma. ph.D, Dean, Faculty of Education, University of Mysore, in designing the study, defining the goals and objectives, identifying the tools of measurements, planning the time line of the study etc helped me lot in carrying out the research work confidently. I thank them with all the respects.

The timely help, co-operation and encouragement extended by Dr. V. D. Patil MD, Dean Faculty of Medicine & Principal, Jawaharlal Nehru Medical College, Dr. B.S. Kodkany. MD Principal Chief Investigator, UMKC – NIH Project USA, Dr. (Mrs.) Vijaya Naik. MD, Director DOME and
Dr. Jyoti. Nagmoti, Director, UDEHP have helped me immensely in the conduct of this study and also in the preparation of this work. I thank them all.

My special thanks are due to Dr. S. S. Goudar M.D. MHPE Director, DOME and Dr. Alan Scharwitz Ph.D who helped me through crucial and unique issues/problems related to the design and conduct of this research work. I specially acknowledge the help given by Dr Alan for permitting me to use, in this study, the tool devised/defined by him viz. Alan’s EBM Survey Questionnaire. I owe both of them a lot. I must thank the great teachers Dr. Ara Tekian, P h.D and Dr. Mark Gelula. Ph.D., UIC, U.S.A., for all the inputs given by them in carrying out this research work.

I thank Dr. Prakash Patil M.D. Professor & Head of Pathology, Dr. S. G. Kardesai M.D. DCP, Professor and Head of Microbiology, Dr. Shashank Purwar M.D, Associate Professor of Microbiology and other staff members of both the departments for helping me to conduct the interventions of the study.

The advice and the help given by Mr. S. S. Mallapur, Chief Statistician, right from the beginning of the study in defining the study design, statistical details, analysis of the results of the study have helped me considerably in the smooth conduct of the study. I take this opportunity of thanking him and also Dr. Nareshkumar Tyagi Ph.D, Professor of Statistics for the same.

I also acknowledge the invaluable help given by Mrs. Swati Samuel, Mr. Pradeep Singh, Mrs Sunita Mannikeri, Mrs Poonam Kapsi and Mr Yuvraj Basarimarad in various phases of the conduct of this study and preparation of the dissertation book.

My wife, Dr.(Mrs) Pushpa Kotur. is my special motivator at home, keeping me always on toes to carry the work forward. I thank her from my heart.

Finally I am grateful to all my student participants who were the real source of inspiration for me.

I thank one and all who have helped me directly & indirectly, without which this work would not have seen the light of the day.

(Dr P F Kotur)
