16. I will read out 2 situations about 2 families one by one. As soon as I finish reading one situation, I will ask you to answer some questions.

Situation I

Mr. And Mrs. Y are old, and live in a village in India. They have one son and one daughter. The daughter lives in a city 35 Kms away with her family and the son lives in the UK with his family. Mr and Mrs Y visit their son every fourth year and their son visits every alternate year. Their daughter visits them once a year. Over a period of time Mrs Y has developed health problems. She is not able to take care of the household chores and needs assistance with her own daily needs, such as getting in and out of bed. Mr Y is not equipped to do household chores and thinks it is not possible for him to manage the changed situation.

What decisions should they make?
Who should be involved in the decision-making process?
Who do you think should take care of them and why?

Situation II

Mr M is 72 years old and lost his wife two years ago. Both his sons live abroad and he has no daughters. An unmarried sister, aged 79 keeps house for him but her health is not good. Mr. M’s brother lives in a three-generation joint household in the next village.

What long-term plans should Mr. M and his sister make for their old age?
Who is responsible for them?
