I express my deep gratitude to Dr. K. P. Dhake, M. Sc., Ph.D., F.A.S.I., F.I.C.S., F.U.S.I., Reader in Applied Physics for his inspiring guidance, suggestions and encouragement during the investigations also for the fruitful discussions carried out, which helped me to complete my work and submit the thesis.

I shall remain extremely grateful to Dr. Dayal Saran, Asst. Prof., Physics Department, Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur, for providing necessary laboratory facility and his personal interest and encouragement. I am also grateful to Prof. R. A. Vora, Head, Applied Chemistry, for his suggestion during my work.

I am so grateful to Prof. Dipak Kumar De, Dean, Faculty of Tech. & Engg. and Prof. T. R. Joshi, Head, Applied Physics Department for providing necessary laboratory facilities.

I shall always remember Mr. W. P. Bhagat, Reader in Applied Physics, Mr. Amwilsu Verghese, Technical Assistant, Bio Technology and Mr. S. Nag for their tireless help during frustrations and disappointments.

I will not forget the help and emotional support rendered by Mr. Y. H. Gandhi, and Mr. S. N. Patil Temp.
Lecturer, Applied Physics Department and Mr. Faisal Ajjie. I am indebted to Mr. Rathin Mukherjee and Ms. Kukoo Samuel for their help in the preparation of this thesis.

IQBAL AHMED A. SHAIKH