

Acknowledgements

This research work breeds a long list of people whose generous assistance demands to be acknowledged. I am grateful to all of them. The thesis would not have been possible without Prof. V.H. Sonawane, my guide and teacher who provided his valuable advice, suggestions and encouragement when needed the most. I would like to thank him for his constant support and care. I am indebted to him for introducing me to rock art studies and also teaching me to work on it meticulously. He provided me with all his books and journals whenever required for the study, encouraged me to attend rock art conferences, all of which helped to fill gaps in my own knowledge of the subject. It is really difficult to get the chance to work under such a great person as Prof. Sonawane but even more difficult to get such a good human being as a research guide. I feel blessed to have worked under him.

I am thankful to Mr. K.K Mohammad, the then Superintendent Archaeologist of Archaeological Survey of India, Bhopal circle and Mr. S.N Srivastava for lending out their assistance required for my field trips along with information and help. I also thank Mr. Mohammad for letting me to use the library at Bhopal. I am grateful to many people who made it possible for me to study the rock shelters at Bhimbetka and Panchmarhi. They include Santosh Yadav (guide from Archaeological Survey of India, Panchmarhi), Maniram Chowdhury (Guide from Army, Panchmarhi) and Mr. Pawan (guide from Archaeological Survey of India, at Bhimbetka) who took me to many rock art sites on my field trips. I can never forget the hospitality extended to me by the caretaker of the only Government Guest house at Abdullahgunj, Bhimbetka, who along with his family shared their home and food with me (as the guest house was full) for few days till I could find an accommodation. Also, without the help of the truck drivers, who would provide free rides to the caves at Bhimbetka during my week long stay at Abdullahgunj (nearest locality to Bhimbetka), as well as people like Babulal and Radhesyam from Miapur village who allowed me in their homes and answered all my queries, this work would not have been possible. Therefore sincere thanks go out to all off them.

I am also indebted to all those researchers whose ideas and written works have helped me to develop an independent understanding of rock art, upon which this work is based. I am grateful to Erwin Neumayer, David Lewis Williams, N.Chandramouli, R.K Tewari, Sadasiba Pradhan, Y. Mathpal and V.H.Sonawane for being able to use their line drawings and photographs besides mine, to illustrate the text.

I am thankful to Prof. K.K. Bhan (H.O.D) and other teachers of the Department of Archaeology and Ancient History at the M.S University of Baroda for supporting me to carry out this research work. Thanks are also due to all the librarians at Department of Archaeology and Ancient History and Sm. Hansa Mehta Library at the M.S University of Baroda. I am grateful to Dr. Sivanand Rao, Superintendent Archaeologist, ASI, Vadodara circle for allowing me to use their library at Archaeological Survey of India at Vadodara.

Very special thanks are due to my mother, whose encouragement always kept me going; my father who assisted me along with my son on my field trips, my parents in law and sisters in law for their support and inspiration. I am indebted to my brother, for providing me with reference books from which I have benefited greatly, as well as constant moral support for completing the thesis. Finally, thanks are due to my husband for being by my side all through and my son for being patient, even though I took precious time away from him to complete the thesis.
