

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my sincere thanks to Dr.(Miss) Nalini Ogale, Professor and Head, Department of Home Management, Faculty of Home Science, M.S. University, Baroda, my guide, for her stimulating guidance, continuous encouragement, valuable suggestions and all other assistance provided by her throughout the period of the study.

I am grateful to Mrs. Neena Mukul, my friend and Dr.(Mrs.) C.M.Bhat, Scientist, I.A.R.I., New Delhi, who have been kind enough to spare their precious time to go through the manuscript and give their constructive suggestions.

My thanks are due to Dr.A.G.Phatak for his guidance in the statistical analysis and to Mr.J.M.Sinnarkar for making the graphs meticulously.

Special appreciation is extended to homemakers for their co-operation in providing the desired information for research purpose and to friends and relatives who helped me during my research work.

I would also like to express my special thanks to Mr.Subhash C.Gupta for the encouragement and moral support provided by him in the completion of this investigation.

I extend my thanks to Mr.B.D.Mistry for typing the thesis with keen interest and great care.

Finally, I am grateful to the Indian Council of Agricultural Research, New Delhi, for the financial assistance provided in the form of fellowship for pursuing the doctoral programme. My thanks are also due to the Haryana Agricultural University, Hissar, for granting study leave to work towards ^{the} doctoral degree.
