Acknowledgements

This thesis would not have seen the light of day without the help and the support of institutions, colleagues and friends. It is a pleasure for me to acknowledge this and express my gratitude to all of them.

My sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Professor Hasan Mahmud, who has been a source of great support and encouragement. I am thankful to my colleagues in the Department who readily volunteered to help me whenever I needed them. Both Vibhuti Parikh and Shama Mahmud who had been my students and now my colleagues have often helped me with translating from Gujarati to English.

I acknowledge my friends and colleagues Aruna Awasthi and Alice Anugraham who went to impossible lengths to provide logistical support and a tremendous amount of moral encouragement as well as Maitri Vaidya Sabnis who spent long hours typing my texts. Words are not enough to express my thanks to the three of them. I am also grateful to the Head, Department of History, Prof. R.J. Shah for making it possible to complete my thesis.

I wish to express my thanks to Yezdi Patel and Dr. Rajshirke for helping me with the transcript and the translation of the Parsi-Gujarati document. This work would be incomplete if I do not appreciate all the help extended to me by Dr. Wajeehuddin who has helped me to research sources in Persian language and literature as well as translate them.

To Shivanand Patnaik, Rajkumar his pleasant wife Shakuntala as well as and Krishnan and Bindu for their concern, care, friendship and hospitality. My sincere gratitude to my friend Harshvadan Hegde for taking great interest in my ensuing work and sharing a deep friendship.

To Bijal and Smruti for their help in giving the final touch to my research work and creating pleasant and light hearted moments.

My profound gratitude and thanks to my mothers and my extended family (especially Tuntun for driving home that ‘the perfect is the enemy of the good’). Without their support I would not have been able to finish this thesis.
