ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

More often than not, writing a thesis is lonely work which requires a certain amount of seclusion, coming to terms with one's own thoughts and doubts. At least that is my experience. Still, it is beyond doubt that it simply can't be done without the support, advice and encouragement of others, teachers, friends. Accordingly, I would like to take the opportunity to express my gratitude to a number of people who have, over the years contributed in various ways to the completion of this thesis.

First and foremost I want to thank my guide Dr. Umesh R. Dangarwala (Assoc. Prof) Department of Commerce and Business Management, the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda. It has been an honor to be his Ph.D. student. He has taught me, both consciously and unconsciously, how good research is done. I appreciate all his contributions of time, ideas, and effort to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. This research would not have been possible without the support and knowledge that he has given me.

I am grateful to the faculty and staff of the Department of Commerce and Business Management, especially Prof. Ashok Hingorani Dean Faculty of Commerce and Prof. Parimal Vyaz, Head, Department of Commerce and Business Management, for their help and support.

I think I would never have made it up to this point if it had not been for the two persons in my life, Khaled Zaid and Sajid Rangreej whose support and friendship provided constant comfort and enabled me to carry on when things didn’t look that bright.

I would like to thank Dr. Moayad Khanfar for his support and help throughout my work. I would also like to thank Dr. Rashmin Sompura and Dr. John Makana Gekonge for their help and precious time during analysis of my work.

My parents deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My Father, Mahmoud Nakhleh, in the first place is the person who built the fundamentals of learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My Mother, Wajeeha, is the one who sincerely raised me with her caring and gentle love. Rawan, Demah, Mohmad, Abdullah and Ibraheem, thanks for being supportive and caring siblings.
