ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my supervisor, Professor A. C. Mohapatra, Department of Geography, North Eastern Hill University, Shillong (India), for meticulously supervising, encouraging and constantly guiding me at every stage of this Ph.D. work, without which this work would not have materialised. I shall remain ever grateful to him for his painstaking efforts in going through several drafts of the thesis. In deed, I have been very fortunate to have Ph.D. guide of such an eminent academic stature.

Thanks are also due to the Vice Chancellor of the University, the Dean of the School of Human and Environment Sciences, the Head of Department of Geography, and the Dean of Students Welfare, North Eastern Hill University, Shillong for providing various facilities, more so the special arrangement for accommodation in the Guest House to carry out the Ph.D. work. Thanks also go to the both teaching and the non-teaching staff of the Department of Geography, NEHU.

I also owe thanks to the Principal, Head of the Department and the teaching staff of Bajali College, Pathsala, Assam for their support, valuable suggestions and co-operation from time to time during the course of my Ph.D.
I am highly indebted to the University Grants Commission for accepting my work as a Minor Research Project.

My special thanks go to Mr. B.N. Talukdar of Town and Country Planning Department, Guwahati, Mr. James Melvin Lyngdoh and Mr. Danny Synnah of NEHU for giving their valuable time to prepare the maps for the thesis. I express my thanks to Dr. N.P. Goel of NEHU for helping in final editing and formatting of the thesis.

The personnel of the City Superintendent of Police, C.I.D. Office, Department of Town and Country Planning, Directorate of Census Operation, Administrative Staff College, Legal Aids Cell (Mitali Sangha), State Women Commission and State Home of Guwahati, also deserve my special thanks for their kind co-operation in making available data and research materials.

My heartfelt thanks go to all the women who have taken me into confidence and share their experience of atrocities and harassment without whom this work would not have materialised.

My special thanks to Ms. Shamala and Professor Ramakrishnan, visiting Professor, Department of Commerce, NEHU, for their moral support and friendly association with me during my stay at NEHU. Thanks also go to Ms. Rebecca Gnüchtel, casual student, Heidelberg University, Germany for making a congenial environment and giving moral support which made me happy and reduce my mental stress.

I express my thanks and gratitude to all my family members for their constant support, co-operation, encouragement and inspiration throughout my academic achievements, especially in the successful completion of the Ph.D. thesis.
Last, but not the least, I express my most heartfelt gratitude to my husband, Mr. Bhaskar, for his infinite support, encouragement and inspiration throughout my academic achievements, including the Ph.D. and also for giving me moral, emotional support and patience during my stay in Shillong. I express my love and concern for my daughter, Shreeya who grew along with my Ph.D. work from an infant to a child.

SHILLONG (India)

(POLLY VAUQULINE)