ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I was introduced to Linguistics in the year 2001 during my M.A. in NEHU, Shillong, which provided me the opportunity to pursue my Ph.D in the same University through the supervisor of Prof. Juanita War who taught me in my M.A. I am extremely happy to have Prof. Juanita War as my mentor, who instilled in me the confidence to work on Thadou, one of the Tibeto-Burman languages. Prof. Juanita war has always been there for every kind of help and guidance, whenever and which ever form I needed. My research work would not be enriched without her, who has been extremely caring and generous in the real sense of these words.

My occasional meetings with Dr. L. Chhangte were immensely productive that they threw open new avenues in the data I was dealing with. I thank her for giving me profound linguistic information on Kuki-Chin languages and also for helping me in generalising all aspects on the phonology of Thadou. I will always remain indebted to her for her guidance and personnel help.

My sincere thanks also go to all the faculty members of the Department of Linguistics NEHU, Shillong- Ms. Barika Khriem, Saralyn Lyngdoh and Bijoy who have been a constant source of inspiration and also for their help in various ways throughout my research.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Rekha Sharma of the Central Institute of Indian Languages, Mysore who have help me in recording Formant frequency of various sounds in the Phonetic Lap of CIIL, Mysore.

My thanks are due to Prof. P.K.S Pandey, Chairperson Centre for Linguistics, School of Languages, Literature and Cultural Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. I treasure his constructive suggestions for my thesis.

To those who introduced me to the nuances of this discipline and taught me to go beyond the basic concept of Phonology, Prof. Rajesh Sachdeva, Prof. A.K. Mishra, I owe a great deal.

I want to thank my friends in the Department of Linguistics, Curiously Bareh, Heshu AJi, Gaigongpou, Tarun Kom, Dabakaru, Carlos Kynta, Wanda Shisha for their support and care all through my stay in the university.

I wish to thank Dr. T.T. Haokip for the patience he has shown me in my exploring of information on Thadou HIS comments have been essentially of great help.
My thanks are due to all my language consultants- Boinu Haokip, Grace Gangte, Kajolpa Paotang Haokip, Baby Haokip, Chochong Touthang, without whose help and time they readily spared with me, this work would not have been completed.

I want to share the pleasure of accomplishment to my parents who were the real pillars of my education throughout.

Last but not the least, I want to thank all the unnamed individuals who have been of any help in this accomplishment. Thank you all.

(Pauthang Haokip)
