Acknowledgements

I thank God Almighty and praise His Name
All through the work His Grace sustained!

I want to place on record my heartful gratitude to my former guide
Dr. Mark Joseph, former Head of the Department of English, St. John’s College. It was he who provided the present work with the initial impetus, and helped me immensely with his critical acumen at every stage of my research until his untimely demise.

I am especially grateful to my co-guide Dr. S. Ravindranathan,
Professor and Head, Department of English, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, for his scholarly guidance. He willingly spared his precious time, and offered valuable suggestions for making this thesis a literary critical pursuit.

I am deeply indebted to my guide and mentor Dr. R. K. Jacob, Reader, Department of English, St. John’s College, for the suggestions as to the specific form this dissertation finally took. His profound scholarship and insights played a large part in making this dissertation what it is.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. Immanuel Asirvatham, former Professor of English, St. John’s College, for his kind and constant encouragement all through this research work, for reading the entire manuscript, and for making helpful suggestions for its improvement.

I am indebted to Dr. R. S. Arulanandham, former Controller of Examinations, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University; Dr. Pamela Oliver, Reader in English, Sarah Tucker College; Mrs. Vashti Harindranath, Head of the Department of English, Rani Anna Government College for Women; Dr. Nirmala Thangaraj, Head of the Department of English, Sarah Tucker College; and my friend in the U.S.A. Mr. Preston Merchant for their valuable help in various forms in the making of this dissertation.

I express my sincere thanks to my friends Dr. Sakuntala Davamani, Mrs. Charlotte Shantini, and Mrs. Dorothy Chandra for their constructive criticism, and encouragement during this research work.

I am grateful to my friend Dr. S. Kanthimathi, Librarian, Rani Anna Government College for Women, and Mr. I. Samuel, Librarian, St. John's College, for their ready help with books.

I thank Mr. K. Chandrasekaran of Unique Computer Centre, for the prompt and neat execution of this work, and the Mercury Printers, Palayamkottai, in giving a fine finish to the copies of the thesis.
