Acknowledgement

This study on “A SOCIO-ECONOMIC STUDY OF THE UNORGANISED SC/ST (DALIT) WORKERS IN RURAL AREAS WITH A SPECIAL REFERENCE TO TIRUNELVELI DISTRICT OF TAMIL NADU” is executed with the help rendered by many kind people who have generous concern for this section. It is my privilege to record my sincere gratitude to them, for their enabling me to bring out this work in its present form.

First of all, I am at a loss for words to thank former Madurai Jesuit Provincial Rev.Fr.D.Jeyaraj, S.J., for his permission and full support and encouragement to take up this study. Without his support I would have not plunged into this study at all. His love and concern towards me was excellent and boosted me to go ahead with my study.

The completion of the work was translated into reality thanks to the unfailing and unflinching effort, co-operation and guidance of Dr.G.Velan, M.A., Ph.D., who readily agreed to be my guide. He gave his expert knowledge in this field at every stage while carrying out this study. I owe a debt of gratitude to Dr.G.Velan who is my research supervisor. But for his valuable suggestions and constant encouragement, this study could have completed within the short span of time. To him I owe an irrepayable debt of gratitude.

I am deeply indebted to Rev.Fr.Dr.M.Sebastian,S.J., Secretary, St.Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai for his valuable guidance and constant encouragement throughout the period of this study. He has been the source of inspiration to me from the beginning to the end of this study. With his vast repertoire of contacts in the field of research in Economics, he helped me approach noted scholars in specific aspects of my research on this topic. Above all he walked with me and stood by me in my journey up to the end.
My heartfelt thanks to Dr. Henry Schwalbenberg, Director of the International Political Economy and Development Program, Fordham University, New York for having invited me as a visiting scholar for the Spring Semester 1998. He introduced me to Microsoft Excel Program and taught me the application of the statistical tools. He put me to work at the Library of Fordham University and gave his valuable guidance for three months. I can not forget his timely help, his love and concern.

I am also deeply indebted to the Fordham Jesuit Community and the Jesuit Provincial of New York for my free accommodation at the Fordham Jesuit Community house. I remember and thank each and every one of the members of the community for their encouragement and support. I felt at home and cherished the love and concern of every member of the community.

I remember with gratitude the valuable financial help rendered by Rev. Fr. P. J. Ubelmesser, the former Mission Procurator, Germany. With his great help I was able to buy a two wheeler for my data collection at various villages, and a computer to feed and analyse the collected data. With his generous help, I was able to go to USA, Rome and London for my study of related literature. I sincerely thank him for all the help he has rendered and his help is an important milestone in my academic career.

I sincerely thank the members of the Society of Jesus at St. Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai, and St. Mary’s High School, Madurai for having provided the required infrastructure for my research work. I acknowledge their encouragement help and support for which I shall be highly thankful.

Prof. P. Muthusamy, M.A., M.Phil., who was my teacher in the Pre-University class and the Head of the Department of Economics at St. Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai deserves special thanks for his valuable help in finishing this thesis. I salute his dedication and love for completing my thesis.

My sincere thanks to Prof. S.A. Thiaga Rajan, M.A., M.Phil., HOD English, St.Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai for having gone through the thesis and spent his precious time to correct the language.

My heartfelt thanks are due to the librarians of the following institutions: Centre for Development Studies, Tiruvananthapuram; Institute for Social and Economic Change, Bangalore; Indian Social Institute, New Delhi and Bangalore; Nehru Memorial Library, New Delhi; Indian Statistical Institute, Bangalore; Madras Institute of Development Studies, Chennai; St.Joseph’s College, Trichy; Loyola College, Chennai; Delhi School of Economics, Delhi; Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore; Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; London School of Economics, London; Oxford University, Oxford; Campion University, Campion; Fordham University, New York; Boston University, Boston.

I am very grateful to my colleagues Prof. P. Devaraj, Prof. S. Jeyasingh and Prof. T. Albin, who are in the Department of Economics, St.Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai for their co-operation in data collection, printing the questionnaire and clarifying some doubts in the calculations and arranging the numbers.

I am grateful to the Collectorates of Tirunelveli, Trichirapalli for having provided me with the records and data to do my research effectively.

I thank the University Grants Commission for having granted me leave on FIP to complete my Ph.D. work.
My special thanks are due to Mr. J. Sebastian Nixon, M.Sc. Comp.Sci., the system engineer of the Computer Centre of St.Xavier’s College, Palayamkottai, for his help in organising the pages in computer, and repairing the system in my computer as and when required.

Finally I thank the officials at Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, Tirunelveli and the co-ordinator and other faculty members of the School of Economics, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai for their help at various stages of this work.

Place : Tirunelveli

Date : 01.08.2000

R.Rajarathinam, S.J.