There are many persons who have helped me to complete my present study, but it is quite impossible to acknowledge all of them here. First of all I express my deep sense of gratitude Dr. Veena Saraf for her contributions and active guidance to complete by my whole research work smoothly. Otherwise it would not have been possible to complete the same by myself.

I thank Professor J C Binwal for his guidance to my research work. It is a fact that without taking help from computer professionals having the knowledge of statistics and statisticians it would have been a problem to complete the whole work. Regarding the statistical part of my study, many people have helped me, but Mr. N Bhagawati from Institute of Advance Studies for Science & Technology, Guwahati has been very helpful in the processing and analyzing of data using SPSS software. I thank all of them for assistance and expert advice.

I was considerably assisted for word processing and giving final shape to this work by Mr. A Ghosh. I am thankful for his sincere help rendered to me.

Finally, I am grateful to all those who have spared their valuable time to furnish the valuable data required for this research work.

Last but not the least, I thanks my mother, wife and children, who have been very patient, helpful and ever encouraging during the period of my research work.

BIJOY BHARALI