ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I consider it my pleasant duty to express my heartful gratitude to my research guide Dr. C.S. Rayudu, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce, S.K. University, Anantapur, for having been extremely kind and generous in guiding me to keep abreast of the latest information in the field of my special study from the time of the conception of the problem for the research. I am particularly indebted to him for the pains he took in going through the matter, every line I wrote, and also for his valuable suggestions for improvement. I can never adequately express my feeling of gratitude towards him in words. Without his able and expert guidance, the present work would not have seen its completion.

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. B. Phaneeswara Raju, Chairman, Board of Studies, Department of Commerce, Prof. P.B. Appa Rao, Head of the Department, Prof. L. Venugopal Reddy, Dean, Faculty of Management and Commerce, S.K. University, and other members of the Department of Commerce for their encouragement and moral support during the course of my study.

It is a privilege and duty to place on record the facilities and services which I have availed from the library of the Sri Krishnadevaraya University. In addition, I have consulted many other reputed libraries. In particular I am equally thankful to the Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS) and Mumbai University, Mumbai, the UNICEF, the National Institute of Rural Development, the Administrative Staff College of India, the Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Osmania University, Hyderabad.
My thanks are also due to the officials of the Sri Krishnadevaraya University for their generous cooperation throughout the course of this research work.

I am grateful to the Indian Council of Social Science Research, Western Regional Centre, Mumbai for sanctioning Study Grant which enabled me to visit various libraries and for providing data processing facilities for undertaking data processing work.

The data processing work was taken up in the TISS. I am thankful to the TISS for providing computer facilities and giving qualitative output results.

It is also my pleasant duty to acknowledge Prof. M. Kumaraswamy Raju, Prof. P. Bayapa Reddy and Prof. S. A. Khayyoom, Department of English and Comparative Literature for going through the script.

I am equally grateful to Mrs. C. Rathna, C. Chaithu and C. Divya for their affection and hospitality during the course of my study.

My special thanks are due to Dr. K. P. Fatima Mary, Lecturer in Commerce, Kurnool, who has given many valuable suggestions in planning and designing tools and advice in several ways at various stages of my work.

I find words inadequate to express my gratitude to my beloved parents Sri M. Ramesh, Smt. Thirupathamma and Smt. Salamma for their moral support. My special acknowledgement is also due to my uncle M. Balaramudu for his constant encouragement through out the study period.

My brothers Ramanji, Suri, Kasi and sisters Sujatha, Yasodha, Lakshmi and sister-in-law Lakshmi deserve special mention for their love and affection. I am equally grateful to my brothers-in-law Mr. R.C. Ramayya, Mr. G.N. Raju and Mr. P. Mallik for their encouragement.

I will always remain deeply obliged to my friends G. Chandra, S. Chinna Devi and other beloved family members who were a constant source of inspiration to me.

I record my deep sense of gratitude to my colleague Mr. R. Papaiah for his ready help whenever it was required. I am also extremely grateful to Mr. K. Narayana, Mr. K. Maddileti, Mr. Ch. Sreenivas, Mr. O.O. Manju, Mr. D.N. Madhu, Mr. T. Raja, Mr. K. Nandi, Mr. R.K. Duth, Mr. C. Hoop, Mr. S.A. Rafi, Mr. A. Chand, Mrs. G. Kalyani, Ms. Samata for their help.

I wish to thank Mr. P. Lokanna for the neat execution of computer work. I am also warmly thank Mr. S.M. Shariff for his untiring efforts in producing beautiful graphics.
