BIBLIOGRAPHY

A. Primary Sources: Writings of Jayaprakash Narayan
(a) Books

(b) Booklets and Pamphlets

Socialism to Sarvodaya, Madras: Socialist Book Centre, 1956.

National Building in India, (ed. by Brahmanand), Varanasi; Navechetna Prakashan, n.d.

(B) Works of M.N. Roy

(C) Articles and Speeches of J.P.

"Onward to People’s Democracy", The Radical Humanist, Vol. XXXVII, No. 10 (January 1974).

“What Needs to be Done Tibet,” \textit{India Quarterly} (July-September 1959).

“Facing War”, \textit{J.P. Papers} (Subject File No. 39) New Delhi, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library.

Now Dynamics of Social Change (Address of Jayaprakash Narayan at the Second Asian Socialist Conference held at Bombay in 1956) (J.P. Papers Subject File No. 96 (New Delhi, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library)

Communal Harmony and Indo-Pak Relations (J.P.’s speech at the Convention of Council for Promotion of Communal Harmony, which was held from May 22-24, 1965 at Calcutta), The Radical Humanist, Volume XXIX, No. 25, June 20, 1965.

(D) Reports

All India Congress Socialist Party, Bombay, 1937.

(E) Secondary Sources

Books

(F) Articles

Chatterjee, Chinmoy, “Socialist Movement in India and the Socialists”, Young India, Vol. V, No. 6 (March 27, 1975).

Isvarmurty, V., “Socialism: A Serious Thinking” Young India, Independence Special Number (August 15, 1974).

Murti Acharya Ram, “A Year without J.P.” The Hindustan Times, (October 8, 1980).

Journals and Newspapers

1. Sarvodaya
2. Bhoodan
3. Congress Socialist
4. Young India
5. Harijan
6. Janata
7. Mainstream
8. Yojana
9. The Hindustan Times (New Delhi)
10. The Times of India
11. The Tribune