ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply grateful to Dr. K. Ramakrishna Reddy, Professor of Management, S.K. University for his valuable supervision and constant encouragement. I am greatly indebted to my wife, Dr. Lalitha Sreenath, Professor of Law, S.K. University for her illuminating guidance on the legal aspects of this work and for her wholehearted support for this project. But for their persistent prodding, this work would never have been completed.

I am very much thankful to Prof. Dr. L. Venugopal Reddy, Vice-Chancellor, Nagarjuna University, Prof. Dr. B. Ramachandra Reddy, Head, SKIM and Chairman, Board of Studies and Prof. Dr. P. Subba Rao, Dean of Management Studies, S.K. University for their cooperation and help.

Lastly, I wish to place on record the enormous debt that I owe to all the innumerable authors, scholars and researchers who have been forerunners in the fields of organizational development, turnaround management and performance measurement and whose works have enriched my knowledge, shaped my thoughts and lighted my way. I recognize that my work would not have been possible without the benefit of their research and expertise.
