Acknowledgements

At the outset, I deeply thank the Almighty Allah for His sheer benevolence, for bestowing me with what I have.

I would like to express my profound and sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. Ekram Khan, for his precious guidance, critical discussions, continuing support and encouragement throughout this research. His deep insight and broad knowledge not only made every discussion with him very valuable and beneficial but also helped me to learn scientific research and writing. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Ph.D. study. I thank him for his concern towards my well-being and for showering on me his treasure of knowledge from both in and out of academic field.

I am very thankful to Dr. Athar Ali Moinuddin, AMU, Aligarh for his kind suggestions, reviews and insightful comments, advises and encouragement during my doctoral tenure and I share the credit of my work with him. I am also thankful to Prof. Mohammad Ghanbari of University of Essex, UK for his valuable suggestions.

I am indebted to M. Inamullah and Dr. Naushad Alam for devoting some of their valuable time for kind review and suggestions in editing this thesis.

I would like to acknowledge the financial support from the Aligarh Muslim University (AMU), India, without which performing the thesis research would not have been possible. I am also thankful to Prof. M. Salim Beg, Chairman, Department of Electronics Engineering, AMU, Aligarh for providing facilities in the Department.

I am also grateful to all my teachers, colleagues and friends, in particular Dr. Shah Alam, Dr. Omar Farooq, S. Javed Arif, Tanveer Hasan, M. Yusuf Khan, Imdadullah and Musheer Khan for their support and encouragement.

Finally, I wish to deeply thank my family members for being helpful in my every endeavour. I am very grateful and thankful to my father, mother, wife and children for their unconditional support, encouragement and immense patience and without whom I would not have been able to complete the thesis and I owe all my achievements to them.
