Acknowledgements

All praise to Almighty Allah, the Creator, Cherisher and Sustainer of the worlds. He created Man and “taught him that which he knew not” (Al-Qur'an). He is Most Gracious and Most Merciful to all His creations. His bounties and mercies on me and all my fellow human beings are innumerable. He alone endowed me with the requisite knowledge and ability to produce this piece of research work. I bow down to him in gratitude with all humility from the depth of my soul.

I do not find appropriate words to express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Saeeduzzafar, Professor, Department of Psychology, A.M.U. Aligarh, under whose supervision this research was undertaken. Keenly interested in the successful completion of my work, He helped me effectively during the course of the study through his expert guidance, valuable counseling and critical suggestions. The discussions I had with him off and on, enlightened me considerably about the ramifications of the study. In fact, his sincere cooperation, sympathetic and inspiring attitude, and timely assistance greatly facilitated the accomplishment of this research work. It is no exaggeration that this study owes its existence to inspiration and encouragement that I received from my supervisor. I was fortunate enough in receiving immense help from a doyen of his eminence in conducting this investigation. He was kind enough to give me the liberty to encroach upon his precious time despite his numerous academic preoccupations. My frequent discussions with him gave me a deeper insight into the issue involved in the study. His invaluable suggestions and penetrating comments helped me a lot in improving the quality of this research work. The formal words and phrases of gratefulness are too inadequate to express my real sentiments; my heart overflows with gratitude for him.

I am also beholden to the Chairperson Department of Psychology, Prof. Hamida Ahmad, who has been kind enough to advice and guide me regularly in the completion of this study.
My sincere thanks also due to my esteem teachers Dr. [Mrs.] Asiya Aijaz, Dr. Abid Ali Khan and Dr. Mohd. Ashfaque Ahmad for their valuable help.

I must also acknowledge with gratitude the help render to me by Ms. Asfia Nishat and Ms. Amra Ahsan who coded recall protocols.

I am also grateful to nonteaching staff members of the department specially Mr. Mohd Tajuddin and Mr. Shariq Ahmad who always helped in permitting me excess to the academic resources available in seminar and research library of the department.

I also express my deep sense of gratitude to the staff members of the Maulana Azad Library, A.M.U. I am equally thankful to the students of Women’s College A.M.U who had been kind enough in taking personal interest and helping me in the process of data collection for the thesis.

My sincere and heartfelt gratitude is due to my father, Mr. Hilal Ahmad and my mother, Late. Mrs. Naushaba Begum for their enlightened encouragements and affection. My sincere thanks are also due to brothers (Ibtisam and Ibtihaj) and sisters (Hina, Durdana and Rana) for their utmost cooperation and their best wishes throughout the completion of this thesis.

I feel pleasure to thank M. Amir Khan ‘The Khan’, Campus Computers for excellence of this computer work.

Thanks are also due to my friends, Sadaf, Shaheen, Sameera, Saman, Farah, Tauqeer, Azam, and Zulfi for their affectionate cooperations.
