CHAPTER- IV
CHAPTER – IV

MOVEMENT OF PRICES OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS OTHER THAN FOOD CROPS

Nirkh Bazar records of different years of 19th century for the pargana Sawai Jaipur also supply us the prices of different Agricultural products in addition to food crops. These records for agricultural products have been arranged in Tables 29-56 and in figures 68-105 (in the form of bar diagrams). Besides pargana Sawai Jaipur Nirkh Bazar records of agricultural products are also available for other parganas as well like Toda Rai Singh, Naraina, Khandari, Fagui, Malpura. But these records are mainly confined to last two decades of 18th century. Only for pargana Fagui and Malpura we have some records for these products for one or two years for first decade of the 19th century i.e. 1802 A.D. (Fagui) and 1805 A.D. (for Malpura) (see Tables 22-42 and Figures 68-95), Prices of Agricultural products other than food crops in the last two decades of 18th century show fluctuating trend. In pargana Toda Rai Singh Flour was selling at Rs.0.74 per man in 1783. After four years, its prices rose to Rs.1.17 per man and then declined to Rs.0.63 per man in 1790. In pargana Naraina, price of flour was Rs.0.92 per man in 1785 but within three years its prices rose to Rs. 1.05 per man. Same is the case with other products like pulses of Mung and Urd, Maida, Besan, Oil, Gur, Sakkar etc. (see Figures 68-95). This fluctuation may be the result of the prevailing disturbed conditions in the Jaipur state. From the study of figures and tables 96-105, 43-56 for the pargana Sawai Jaipur, it is revealed that the movement of prices of agricultural products does not provide any secular trend. There was a considerable fluctuation in the level of prices. Some agricultural products like flour Bajya, flour Katha and Chune Jowar, have shown slight rise in their prices over the period of five decades (1818-59 A.D.). On the other hand products like Oil, Gur, Pulses of mung and mung deshi and maida have shown decline in their prices over the years spanning from 1818-1859 A.D. The prices of Besan have shown neither rise nor decline and have remained constant. In 1818, Besan was selling at Rs.0.48 per man, its prices rose to Rs. 0.74 per man and Rs. 0.75 per man in the years 1836 and 1850 respectively. Whereas the prices of Sugar shows steep risen in the years 1854 and 1858. In 1854, its prices rose up from Rs. 0.10 per man (in 1853) to Rs. 1.33 per man. If we analyze the trend of prices of agricultural products other than food crops in pargana Sawai Jaipur, the period of five decades (from 1818-1859 A.D.) can be divided into two phases:

- First phase of fluctuation

- Second phase of stability

For example, prices of flour Bajya show fluctuation up to 1850. After 1850, prices of flour Bajya became stable and averages around Rs. 0.55 per man in 1850s. Prices of flour Katha remained fluctuating up to 1840's but acquired stability in the 1850s. Same is the case with other products.

1 Rajputana Ka Ithias, Jaipur part 3, op. cit., p. 118-127.
But the only exception is the Sugar. Here the case is reverse. In first phase, prices of Sugar were stable but in 1850s prices were fluctuating. Upto 1853, sugar was selling at an average of Rs. 0.13 per man. In 1854, prices of sugar were recorded at Rs. 1.33 per man, which fell to Rs. 0.6 per man in 1857 A.D. Again in 1858 A.D. prices of sugar rose to Rs. 0.63 per man which again declined to Rs. 0.08 per man in 1859.
