ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This study was conducted under the guidance of Dr. A. Mujib, Professor of Education, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh. The author is deeply obliged to the members of the various Universities and Colleges who cooperated with him and gave facilities for administering the test. To the student body who sat through the \( \frac{1}{2} \) hours of the test and without whose effort the study would plainly have been impossible the author is greatly indebted.

Particularly, the writer desires to thank Dr. Edwin Harper Jr., Ewing Christian College, Allahabad through whom it became possible to approach Dr. T.V. Hanurav of Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta, who suggested the statistical solution to an intricate statistical problem. But for Dr. Hanurav's suggestion, the study would have been less accurate and the author owes him a debt of gratitude which can never be repaid.
