List of Tables

Table 2.1: A Review of the Features of The Industrial Policy During Pre-Liberalisation vis-a-vis Post-Liberalisation ................................................................................................................10
Table 3.1: Satisfaction Ratings by Age and Gender ............................................................................33
Table 3.2: Satisfaction Ratings by Sector and Socioeconomic Status ................................................33
Table 3.3: Theories of Expectation- Disconfirmation in Customer Satisfaction ..............................42
Table 3.4: ACSI Scores by Industry .......................................................................................................44
Table 3.5: Firms Excelling in Customer Satisfaction Measurement ................................................ .49
Table 4.1: Chronology of Salient Steps Taken by the Government after Independence to Regulate Banking Institutions in the Country ..................................................................92
Table 4.2: Capital to Risk-Weighted Asset Ratio (CRAR) of SCBs, end-March, 2002 (Frequency Distribution) ........................................................................................................................101
Table 6.1: Reflection of the Degree of Importance Attached on Certain Attributes of Products / Services .................................................................................................................................199
Table 6.2: Satisfaction level on certain attributes of products / services ....................................203
Table 6.3: Customers' Expectation Vs. Customers' Experience ...................................................... 213
Table 6.4 : Summary of Test of Correlation Coefficient between the Satisfaction Scores on Certain Attributes of Products / Services and General Satisfaction Level of the Customers .................................................................................................................................232