Acknowledgement

The present study received the help and encouragement from so many persons. In this connection, it is a matter of satisfaction to acknowledge the persons who have lent a hand to finish my Ph.D. work.

First of all, I convey my sincere regards to my joint research guides Prof. Pradip K. Chakraborty and Prof. Ujjal Mallik from the Burdwan University. Prof. Chakraborty instead of putting forward his own topic of interest, persuaded me to take research study where my interest lies. He was the source of my inspiration from the beginning to the end of my studies. He knows very well how to get a tedious job like Ph.D. done by his research scholar in time. Prof. Mallik facilitates the progress of my study with his valuable suggestions during our discussions and during evaluation of the draft of the study. Whenever, I faced problem regarding the course of my study, I consulted with him. One of his papers on stock market also helped me. Both Prof. Chakraborty and Prof. Mallik suggested several times on how to overcome the limitations of my study.

Prof. Arup Chatterjee was very important person behind my work. Without the help of Prof. Chatterjee, I would not have completed my thesis in the present form. He, in fact, helped to develop the methodology of my study. I am deeply indebted to him.

I must oblige to all the members of Faculty members of Burdwan University almost everyone every help me directly or indirectly. Prof. Joydeb Sarkhel was instrumental in improving the methodology by suggesting about alternative methods. Prof. Uttam Dutta, the then Head of the Department, always were supportive in every respect during the tenure. Dr. Santanu Ghosh first told about the paper and content of Mr. T.P. Madhusoodanan. Dr. Debasish Sur suggested about how to approach to the study. Prof Debdas Rakshit suggested for taking up a comparative study that improved the quality of my study. Prof Tapas K Bose and Prof Swapan K Biswas was also helped me.

I must convey my heartiest thanks to the University Grants Commission for offering the teacher fellowship under Faculty Improvement Programme for the completion of my thesis. Dr. Gopikanta Koner, Principal of Memari College, did the needful on his part to get me the fellowship. I am thankful to him. My colleagues at the Memari College were always encouraged about my study. I am indebted to the Registrar, the University of Burdwan, in this regard as well.

I am appreciative to the Librarian and Library Personnel of Indian Institute of Management, Calcutta (IIMC). I am gratified to the Library Personnel of Indian Statistical Institute (ISI), Calcutta for their cooperation in collecting research materials. I am obliged to the Librarian of Viswabharti University. I read a substantial part of my study at the library of my home university, the University of Burdwan. I am thankful to the library personnel of the Burdwan University.

Mr. Amit Sen Roy of Computer Olympus has assisted me in formatting the paper and other computer related jobs.
It does not need any formality still I convey my deep regards to my parents for their moral support during the study. My mother always wanted his son to be in top echelon of education. I think I have inherited my inquisitive mind from my father. I can never forget those childhood days when they sacrificed to put sincere effort for our study.

Last but not the least, my wife Ms. Manisha has taken a lot of trouble to handle the day-to-day family life and always she was always beside me in my venture. Our little offspring, Ms Bristy and Master Baidik, might have understood the gravity (!) of the Ph.D. and provided me with enough time to finish my study.

Natunpally East, Burdwan

Dated 4th June, 2006

(Kalptaru Bandopadhyay)