ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a great pleasure for me to avail the opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude and immense indebtedness to my respected teachers Dr A. R. Ghosh, Reader and Head, the Department of Environmental Science, the University of Burdwan, and Dr M. Dasgupta, Reader, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for their sincere and generous guidance from time to time, their wholesome advice, blessings and everwilling helps including invaluable suggestions and noble counsel as well as painstaking examinations of manuscripts throughout the period of my study without which the thesis would not be successful. I take it as a priviledge to have worked under their supervision for the doctoral degree.

I express my immense gratitude and special respect to the Honourable Vice-Chancellor, the Registrar and Dean (Science) of the University of Burdwan; also to the Honourable Vice-Chancellor, the Registrar and the Director of Research of Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for their kind help and co-operation in all official procedures.

I owe my indebtedness to Prof. J. K. Dutta (Former Head of the Department of Environmental Science), the University of Burdwan for providing all sorts of facilities during the tenure of my work.

I am grateful to Dr G. Sarkar, In-Charge, Regional Research Station, Gayeshpur, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for his constant help, co-operation and blessings during my research work at Gayeshpur laboratory.

I remain deeply indebted to Dr Subhendu Dutta, Lecturer, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for his innumerable helps, encouragement, valuable suggestions, warm affection, blessings, co-operation and inspirations during my course of study.
My sincere regards and special thanks goes for Dr Pallab Datta, Lecturer, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya; Dr R. N. Saha, Senior Lecturer, Department of Environmental Science, the University of Burdwan; Dr S. Gupta, Lecturer, Department of Environmental Science, the University of Burdwan and Mr N. K. Mandal, Lecturer, Institute of Science Education, the University of Burdwan.

My profound respect to all my teachers Prof. P. N. Chakrabarty, Department of Zoology and Dean (Science), the University of Burdwan; Prof. S. Roy, Department of Zoology, the University of Burdwan; Dr A. Sadhu, Reader, Burdwan Raj College; Dr A. Majumdar, Reader, Department of Zoology, the University of Burdwan; Dr N. Hazra, Lecturer, Department of Zoology, Balurghat College; Mr S. Sain, Lecturer, Bagati College and other teachers of my University and College life for their blessings, co-operation and wholehearted help.

I am also grateful to Dr S. Chakraborti and all the staff members of the Department of University Instrumentation Centre, the University of Burdwan for their kind help during the work of Scanning Electron Microscopy.

Thanks are also due to the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), New Delhi for awarding me with Senior Research Fellowship under the tenure of which the research work was carried out.

I would like to convey my sincere thanks to Dr Debasish Majumdar, Reader, Department of Agricultural Statistics, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for helping me with the statistical analysis.

My heartfelt thanks to all the staff members of Central Library, CICFRI, Barrackpore; Central Library, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya and Central Library, the University of Burdwan for extending every possible help as and when required.

I am very much thankful to my uncle, my dadu-dida and all members of their family for their gentle care, warm affection, kind concern as a guardian, for all the love and homely feelings received from them that filled my heart with hope and zeal during my stay at Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya hostel campus.

I am very much grateful and express my heartiest thanks to Samshul Chacha, Atiyar Rehman and all their family members for their generous help and assistance during sampling that helped to carry out my work efficiently. I will remain deeply indebted to them for their love, moral support, care and blessings that I have received from them always.

I am also deeply indebted to my dear Sapna di, Ratna di, Badal da, Debu da, Dinu da, Subhash da, Khokon da, Saaju and Swapan Babu and other staff members of Regional Research Station, Gayeshpur, Bidhan Chandra Krishi Viswavidyalaya for the love and care that I have received from them. A word of thanks would not be enough to express my love and gratitude to them for their whole-hearted help and inspiration at all needful hours. I would always cherish their loving memory in my mind with great pleasure.

I would also like to thank Gobindo da, Shankar da, the staff members of the Department of Environmental Science, the University of Burdwan for their help.

The abysmal love, valuable help, sincere concern and constant encouragement extended by my friends specially Subroto, Satinath, Debatl, Moutusi, Piu, Renu, Rupa, Reshmi, Suchi, Chetna, Sumedha, Manisha, Smita, Shrabani, Deependshu, Anupam and Asish; juniors specially Aloke, Sandipan, Tirtha, Arnab, Debashish, Sangita, Srijib, Subrata, Sumanta, Satarupa, Kasturi, Debasree and seniors Suchitra didi, Amitabh sir, Uttam da and Mr Tapan motivated me to accomplish my research successfully.

I would like to extend special thanks to my friends Kartick, Rekha and Kaushik for their valuable help when needed.
I also convey my sensible appreciation to my room-mate Debala for her cordial wishes during my struggling hours.

I sincerely appreciate Mr Pranjit Roy for preparing the manuscript with utmost care, for his sincere efforts in the graphical representation of data for giving final shape to my thesis.

Words cannot really justify the relentless efforts and selfless sacrifices of my dearest Maa and Baba. It is only because of their constant love, inspiration and incessant prayers that I have been able to see this day. My success is nothing but their fathomless love, selfless sacrifices, sincere prayers and blessings. It is really a blessing from the Almighty to have my brother Palash and my sweet little sister Mumpy by my side caring for me and helping me in their small little ways. The constant encouragement and moral support extended by my dearest family members were the driving force that kept the torch of my motivation burning throughout the course of my work.

My love and heartfelt regards to all my near and dear ones, relatives and well wishers (whose name though not mentioned are not forgotten) whose love and prayers have always been a source of inspiration.

Above all, I humbly bow down my head before the Almighty God, our creator, Lord and Saviour to express my heartfelt gratitude for giving me the strength to stand against all odds and also for showering His ever-flowing supreme grace and blessings throughout my life. May the Almighty bless each one of us in our future endeavours.
