ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, it gives me immense pleasure to place it on record my profound gratitude and reverence to my research guide Dr. K. Ramakrishna Reddy, Professor, S.K. Institute of Management of Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for his inspiration, constant guidance, support and overwhelming encouragement extended to me in the process of research.

I am thankful to Prof. B. Ramachandra Reddy, Head, Department of Management Studies and Chairman, Board of Studies, Sri Krishnadevaraya Institute of Management, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, for the cooperation and help.

I would like to thank Dr. N. Jayasankaran, Vice-Chancellor, Sri Kanchi University, Kancheepuram, for his good advice on the research from time to time during the course of study.

Next, I would like to thank Prof. M. Sankaran, Director i/c, BIM, Trichy, for his constant encouragement.

Thanks are also due to all faculty members at S.K. Institute of Management who helped me in every possible way with this research. I immensely thank my other colleagues at Bharathidasan Institute of Management for their timely suggestions in carrying out this work.
I am also thankful to the authorities of Sri Krishnadevaraya University for helping me at all stages to complete this work.

Words fail me to express my deep sense of gratitude to my parents, Sri Y. Sree Hari Rao and Smt. Y. Saraswati for their encouragement.

Producing a thesis is a considerable strain not only on the researcher, but also on the members of family. I thank my loving wife Vijayavani sincerely for helping to bear this strain. But for her benevolent gesture, positive attitude, unfailing support, and constant encouragement I would not have been able to complete this work successfully. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge my debt to my sweet daughter Hari Chandana, for those blessed intervals of quiet in which this work was carried out.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not thank my respondents for having provided me with data and for their insights on the intricacies of pharmaceutical brands in spite of their busy schedules.
