ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply indebted to my research supervisor Dr. A. Krishna Kumari, Associate Professor in the Department of Geography, S.K. University, Anantapur, who has shaped me into a serious research scholar. But for her kind encouragement, paternal care and excellent guidance and patience, This dissertation could not have been completed in its present form. Words fail me to express my gratitude to her.

I am thankful to Professor Dr. M. Sambasiva Rao, Head of the Department, Professor Y.V. Ramanaiah chairman, Board of Studies, Dr. K. Ravindra Reddy, Associate Professor and Miss S. Madhuri Assistant Professor, Dept. of Geography, S.K. University for their valuable suggestions, co-operation and timely help during the completion of this work.

I am deeply beholden to my parents Sri M.P. Bayapa Reddy, Smt. Adhilakshamma, my brothers M. Lakshmi Narayana Reddy, Dr. M.V. Narayana Reddy and Brother-in-law N. Jagadeswara Reddy, who have been responsible for my higher education and who have been a perennial source of inspiration. Words fail me in expressing my deep sense of gratitude to them.

My sincere thanks to Dr. J. Narendra Kumar and Dr. Y.K. Nagaveni and other friends for their encouragement and help at various stages of my research work.

I am extremely thankful to the officials of Karimnagar district, medical officers, Malaria Office and Chief Planning Office for providing facilities to me and collecting data and maps pertaining to this work.

Finally, I am thankful to M/s Ram_Sun Computer World, who typed my dissertation with special care and neat execution.
