ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In writing this dissertation, I have received immeasurable help from Scholars, Academicians and Friends, but for whom my effort would not have borne fruit and so it is with gratitude that I acknowledge it. Foremost amongst the Scholars who evinced keen interest in my work is my research supervisor, Professor G. Lakshmaiah Naidu, Chairman, Board of Studies, the Department of Sociology, S.K. University, Anantapur. He offered very useful insights in different stages of the work. He was all through a source of stimulation and inspiration without whose encouragement and unstinted co-operation, the work would not have been completed. I am deeply grateful to him. Not less interest has been shown by Professor K. Venkata Reddy, Vice-Chancellor, S.K. University, highly thankful for his encouragement.

I am thankful to my friends who have helped me directly or indirectly. It is no exaggeration if I say that it is my parents who are invisible spirit behind my work. No words can adequately express my debt of thanks to them for their fine support, encouragement and assistance given to me. I am deeply beholded to them. I am also grateful to Sri M. Venkatamuni Reddy, who has taken every care in typing this dissertation.

S. LALITHA