ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I place my humble salutation to the Almighty God without whose grace and blessings this maiden attempt would not be possible.

I wish to express my deep sense of thankfulness to Dr. V. Gomatinayagam, former Vice Chancellor in-charge, Annamalai University, Thiru P. Ramalingam, and Thiru T.A. Nellainayagam who had sowed the seeds for this research work. Their efforts in persuading Dr. S. Mangayarkarasi and Dr. C.N. Natarajan to extend their guidance to me is indeed the real basis of this research work.

Words more often are inadequate in expressing the emotions. More so when I try to verbalise my sense of gratitude to Dr. C.N. Natarajan. He has been more than a guide to me. He had been a critical friend, philosopher, sharp critic, whose wisdom was highly infectitious. If this research has a degree of professionalism, the credit is exclusively to his meticulousness.

From the beginning throughout the period of research and during the process of completion, the interest and involvement extended by Dr. S. Mangayarkarasi needs no extrapolation. The final shape of thesis is
The crucial part of my thesis which represents involvement, exhaustive data collection, analysis, etc. Which were the basis of this research was made possible with Faculty Improvement Programme (FIP) offered by the University Grants Commission (UGC), Government of India. In this context, I wish to place on record my deep sense of indebtedness to Prof. K.H.Narayanan, Secretary, Sri Paramakalyani College, Alwarkurichi, and the principals of the college, Prof. S.Venkatraman, Dr.P.Ramanathan, and Dr. S.Lakshminarayanan. I also wish to acknowledge the timely help rendered by Prof. V.Ganapathy Subramanian through his uncle late K.R.S. Mani, Chancellor Chilean Embassy, New Delhi in getting the UGC approval for FIP.

This research work is essentially an in-depth statistical analysis of chosen factors. If the thesis has acquired a degree of statistical credibility, it is due to the undaunted and painstaking efforts of Dr.K.Senthamarai Kannan (M.S.University), Dr.P. Manickam (S.P.K.College), Prof.M.Sundaram (S.P.K.College), Dr.A.S.Nageswaran (Raja Arts College, Pudukottai), Prof.R. Sundaramoorthy (Raja Arts College, Pudukottai) and Thiru T.Karthikeyan (Annmalai University). I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to them for their support.
In this juncture, I wish to recall the fine tunings of Dr. Amusa who was instrumental in giving technical shake up to this work.

Extensive literature collection was made possible because of the curtious help rendered by the librarians, and faculty members of Dr. Sivanthi Aditanar College of Physical Education, Tiruchendur, Sports Authority of India South Centre, Bangalore, Bangalore University, and Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, and Mr. Dominic Malcolm and other professors of the University of Leicester, England.

I wish to express my sense of appreciation and thankfulness to my colleagues, Dr. S. Ramesh, Prof. R. Gowri Sankar, and Dr. C. Raju for sparing their invaluable time for editing the thesis.

For a college physical education director that too, a lone faculty in the department, research is a faraway dream. For this dream to come true, one has to believe that it can. Dr. R. Palaniappan had made me believe. No words can express my feelings in this regard.

The long stretch of this research work has imposed a great degree of topsy-turvy situations. In all these, my parents, brothers, wife, and children have stood beside me like the rock of Gibraltar. As they are part of me, thanking them would amount to thanking myself.
I thank Thiru Saravanan, Thiru Raja, and Selvi N.Meena for effectively transforming my research data, ideas into an orderly document.

This research involving various individuals would not be possible without their co-operation. I deem it as privilege and pleasure in acknowledging the support rendered by people directly or indirectly which made this research a fair degree of success.

V. PERUMAL