ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I acknowledge my debt to Prof. L.N. Gupta who initiated me into the study of modern poetry. It is in his class, electrically animated, that I developed a critical taste for Lawrence's poetry. It has been an even more revealing and rewarding experience to do research work under his insightful supervision. With candid humility I own that more is his 'due than more than all can pay'.

I also take this opportunity to express gratitude to my other teachers -- late Murari Mohan Chakraborty, Prof. Sadananda Chakraborty, Dr S.R. Banerjee, Dr S.L. Bhattacharyya, Dr D.K. Barua, Dr M.K. Roy, Dr Rama Kundu and late Prof. Biswanath Bhattacharyya.

Research being a long process, I have, in the course of my work, been indebted to many. Of them Prof. Ajit Banerjee, Prof. S.N. Bairagyya, Dr Sukriti Ghosal, Mr Benoy Krishna Deb, Mr Deepen Sarker, Mr Ashisbindu Chakraborty, Mr Ashoke Bej, Miss Shabari Sengupta, Miss Sumita Sen, Miss Kasturi Basu and Mrs. Indira Jana demand thankful mention. I owe a note of gratitude to Dr Satyabrata Bhattacharyya, Principal, Krishnagar Govt. College, for enabling me to complete my work.

I am particularly grateful to the members of the Institute of Applied Computer Service, B-1/143, Kalyani, Nadia for taking extraordinary care in computerizing the entire thesis in a short time.

And finally I express long cherished gratitude to the members of my family -- Krishna, Karabi, Kankan and Kuttu. They motivated me whenever my energy flagged. I pay them thanks they never ask for.

(Samir Kumar Mukhopadhyay)