ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I feel extremely pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S.K. Biswas, Reader in Commerce, University of Burdwan for his valuable technical guidance, constant encouragement, constructive criticism and painstaking efforts throughout the period of investigation and organisation of the thesis. His co-operation and constant association was much beyond the limit of formal obligation as a teacher - supervisor for which I am highly obliged and deeply indebted to him. This work could not have been completed without his unstinted co-operation and guidance.

I had to use the libraries of the University of Burdwan, The University of Visva-Bharati, Indian Institute of Management at Joka, Indian Institute of Management and Social Welfare (College Square, Calcutta), Palli Siksha Bhabana (Visva-Bharati), State Institute of Rural Development (Kalyani, Nadia). I owe to all the staff members of the aforesaid libraries.

I thankfully remember the sympathetic behaviour, sincere encouragement and valuable suggestions I received from Dr. P. Dasgupta, Lecturer in Agricultural Extension and co-ordinator of Agricultural Extension Programmes, Visva-Bharati. I am also thankful to Dr. S.B. Mukherjee, Reader, Institute of Agriculture, Visva-Bharati.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. Pranesh Das, Prof. Jaydeb Sarkhel, Dr. J.S. Sarkar, and Prof. Amit Mallik of the Department of Commerce, University of Burdwan, for their intellectual Suggestions and psychological support for which I am ever grateful to them. I am also grateful to the authorities of the University of Burdwan and Department of Commerce of the Burdwan University for allowing me to submit the thesis to the University of Burdwan for Ph.D. degree.

Among those who have inspired me during my work, I thankfully record the names of Prof. S.N. Sinha, Prof. S.S. Nandi, and Prof. B. Chowdhury of S.N. College, Labpur, Birbhum. I am ever personally indebted to Prof. S.K. Ilias of S.N. College, Labpur. I am also thankful to Dr. T.S. Ghosh and Dr. Swastika Biswas of Bolpur College and Mr. D. Saha of Bolpur High School, Birbhum.

I respectfully remember the Block Development Officers of various Blocks in the District of Birbhum for their kind help and co-operation in respect of providing me with valuable panchayati documents and other information. I am highly grateful to all the leaders and General members of the Panchayat Institutions who were the respondents of this study. Moreover, I must pay my gratitude to all those common people of this district who were also the respondents of this study. This study would have not been possible without their full co-operation. I am also thankful to all the staff members of the District census office, Birbhum Zilla Parishad, Bureau of Applied Economics and Statistics, Birbhum and census department of the Government of West Bengal, Calcutta and the office of the Directorate of Panchayats, Government of West Bengal.
I am grateful to Mr. Tapas Kumar Das, Kishnahar Commercial Institute, Birbhum for typing almost the entire thesis very efficiently. I also remember Mr. D. Ojha, Labpur for typing a part of the thesis. Besides, I owe to all the staff members of Dhar Brothers, Calcutta for their efforts in organising and binding the thesis.

Above all, it is my primary duty to record deep sense of respect and gratitude to my elder brother Mr. Md. Obaidullah who is not only my guardian but also founder of my academic career. I also ever remember love and felicitations of Mrs. Rabea Begum, wife of my elder brother. I should also express feelings I cherish towards my wife Hosneara Begum for rendering unfailing sympathy, moral support and keen steadiness. Finally, I owe all that I am, to my late mother Hasiba Khatun in whom I have found divinity, sanctity and sacrifice.
