Acknowledgements

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my research supervisor, Dr Angshuman Kar, Reader, Department of English, The University of Burdwan, for giving me constant support and encouragement to complete my research. He has given me valuable suggestions and has also helped me conceptualize the theoretical paradigm of my research. I also owe a lot to him for training me in the methodology of research.

I am thankful to Prof Debnarayan Bandopadhyay, Professor, Department of English, The University of Burdwan, and Mr Kunal Basu for helping me with valuable research materials. I especially owe gratitude to Prof Paul Delany for taking the trouble of mailing me his article. Dr Himadri Lahiri has frequently given me helpful advice for and thoughtful insight into my research project. I am thankful to him.

This work would not have been possible without the constant support, encouragement and love received by me from my parents, Mr Ranjit Kr Chatterjee and Mrs Sandhya Chatterjee, my wife, Mrs Paromita Chatterjee, and my daughter, Titir. Last but not the least, I should thank Dr Arnab Kr Sinha for doing much more than merely supplying me with numerous research articles throughout the whole period of my research work.
