ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I convey my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S. Roy, Professor of Zoology, University of Burdwan, not only for his esteemed guidance but also for his continuous encouragement with frequent advice and invaluable suggestions throughout the period of investigation.

I am very much grateful to the authorities of Burdwan University and Darjeeling Govt. College for providing me with necessary Laboratory and Library facilities during the execution of this research work and to the Indian Meteorological Station, Alipore, Kolkata for providing me with climatological data presented in this thesis.

I am thankful to the Director, Padmaja Naidu Himalayan Zoological Park, Manager of Happy Valley Tea Estate and Divisional Forest Officer, Silviculture Hills Division, Darjeeling for their kind cooperation and help during the field trips.

I am grateful to Prof. P. K. Chaudhuri, Dr. M. Banerjee, Prof. S. Chakravorty, Prof. M. C. Mukhopadhyay (Retd.), Dr. A. Majumdar, Dr. P. Chakrabarti, Head of the Dept. of Zoology, Dr. A. Mukherjee, Dept. of Botany and Prof. D. Roy, Dept. of MBA, of the University of Burdwan, Dr. G. K. Saha of Calcutta University, Mr. S. N. Brahma, Dept. of Chemistry, Mr. G. Aditya and Prof. T. Midya, Head of the Dept. of Zoology, Darjeeling Govt. College for their sincere help, advice and encouragement in various ways throughout the period of study.

I owe my indebtedness to Prof. S. K. Chaudhury, Dept. of Geography, Haldia Govt. College for his advice and kind help in conducting the mechanical analysis of soil samples.

I extend my thanks to my Laboratory Colleagues Mr. M. Majumdar and Mr. S. Ghosh for assistance and cooperation in this work.

The author is also indebted to the Zoological Survey of India, Kolkata, for kindly identifying the arthropodan specimens and Mr. Kalu Singh Sunar, ex-plant Collector of Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling for identifying the floral components incorporated in this thesis.

I wish to express my thankfulness to my well-wishers Mr. and Mrs. Bista, my students – Sri A. Dey Sarkar, Sri P. Chanda, Sri A. Barman, Sri D. Talukdar, Sri A. Saha and Sri I. Ghosh for their cooperation, assistance and help in many respects.
Above all, I am greatly indebted to my parents, brothers, sisters, Mou, Piu, Basu and Sabyasachi who always inspired, encouraged, supported and kept me free from all sorts of household duties and helped me to devote myself entirely to my research work, which has done much to bring this project to its present form.

Lastly, I like to offer my heartiest thanks to Sri Rajkalpa Medda for statistical analysis and Sri Pranjit Roy for typing the manuscript through computer.

TAPAS CHANDRA GHOSH