ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would not exaggerate if I confess that, the last five years of research works on laser probing have left some indelible marks upon me. I owe a deep sense of gratitude to Prof. A. Choudhury of Tezpur University and Dr. K C. Sarma of Gauhati University for their unstinted guidance and meticulous supervision and painstaking efforts throughout my investigation and for the way they introduced me to the world of laser probed microscope and its applications in various fields.

I also extend my sincere gratitude to Prof. G. K. D. Mazumdar, Head of U.S.I.C. of Gauhati University for his kind and valuable suggestions and help at every stage of my work.

I am thankful to Dr. P. K. Baruah of U.S.I.C., G.U. for his encouragement and help.

I wish to thank my colleague Mr. Gazi A. Ahmed, for his help and co-operation rendered to me during my research work.

No lexicon word can describe the immense help, encouragement and assistance offered by Ms. Jyotimoni Kashyap. I am deeply indebted to her.

I take this opportunity to thank all the officials of U.S.I.C. and Electronics Science Department of Gauhati University for their help and encouragement throughout my research work.

I am grateful to the members of the Physics Department of Tezpur University for their support and encouragement in writing my thesis.

It is not possible to name all the other people to whom I am indebted for suggestions, encouragement, comments and help.

I am especially indebted to my family members for their encouragement and for bearing with me so patiently during the tenure of my research work.

— Kishor Kumar Baruah.