CONTENTS

Preface .......... i-iii
Abbreviations .......... iv-vi

Chapter I
Introduction
Significance of Mediaeval Assamese Literature and Culture;
Śaivism, Śaktism, Vaiṣṇavism, Buddhism, Other minor religious sects .......... 1-36

Chapter II
A Short Survey of Early Assamese Literature
Translation works, narrative poems, drama, bārgīṭa and bhaṭīmā, kīrtana-ghoṣā, philosophical writings, prose works .......... 37-77

Chapter III
Culture as Reflected in Pre-Ṣaṅkaradeva Literature
A. Social life: people and social conditions, system of marriage, sacramental rites, system of education, aspects of social life, games and sports, social ethics

B. Political matters

C. Economic conditions: agriculture, trade, food and drinks, dresses, ornaments, cosmetics, articles of daily use
Chapter IV

Culture as Reflected in the Literature of the Age of Śaṅkara-deva and Mādhava-deva

A. Social life: people and social conditions, system of marriage, sacramental rites, system of education, the last rites of the dead, aspects of social life

B. Political matters: military arrangements and armoury

C. Economic conditions: agriculture, trade and commerce, food and drinks, dresses, ornaments and other articles of luxury, appliances for day-to-day use

D. Religion and Philosophy: Śaivism, Śaktism, Vaiṣṇavism, Buddhism, other gods and goddesses, vows and fasting, popular beliefs

E. Fine arts: music and dance, architecture and sculpture, histrionics
Chapter V

Culture as Reflected in the writings of the Contemporaries of Śaṅkaradeva

A. Social life: people and the social conditions, system of marriage, sacramental rites, education system, the last rites of the dead, social customs and other aspects of social life, sports and games

B. Political matters

C. Economic conditions: agriculture, trade and commerce, food and drink, dresses, ornaments and other articles of luxury, furniture, utensils and other things of utility

D. Religion and Philosophy: Śaivism, Śaktism, Vaiṣṇavism, other gods and goddesses, diverse pūjā materials, polytheism, religious practices, popular beliefs and superstitions

E. Fine arts: music and dance, painting, sculpture, architecture

Chapter VI

Culture as Reflected in the Pāṇḍava Writers

A. Social life: people and the social conditions, system of marriage, sacramental rites, system of education, the last rites of the dead, social customs and other aspects of social life, sports and games, recreation

B. Political matters

C. Economic condition: food and drink, dresses, ornaments and other articles of luxury, furniture, utensils and other things of utility

D. Religion and Philosophy: Śaivism, Śaktism, Vaisnavism, other gods and goddesses, popular beliefs and superstitions

E. Fine arts: musical instruments, songs and dances, painting, sculpture, architecture

Chapter VII
Conclusion

Select Bibliography